BOARD IN SESSION.

SOME TOWNS TO BE DIVIDED.

Several Resolutions to be Introduced That May Cause Some Discussion.

The fall session of the county board convened at the courthouse on Tuesday. The personnel of the board is the same as last spring. The appointment of Geo. I. Strang of Marshfield as poor commissioner is place of Egbert McLees, deceased, was affirmed by the board, and L. E. Colvin appointed as commissioner of the Pittsville district.

It is rumored that a resolution will be introduced to divide the town of Wood into three sections and divide the towns of Vesper and Seneca so as to make three towns out of the two. This will make the towns more of an ordinary size.

It is also probable that a resolution will be introduced to change the method of taking care of the county poor; that is to have each town pay for the number of indigents they have, as was the former custom in the county. So far as can be learned this scheme is not generally favored by the members of the board.

The different committees were at work until Friday noon at their work, so that nothing was done by the board until yesterday afternoon.

Dr. O. T. Hougen received the appointment as county physician for this end of the county. Last year there was no physician, as none of the doctors put in a bid for the position.

That Football Game.

From all that can be learned in this city it would seem that the Journal of Stevens Point was a trifle off its trolley when it claimed in that the football game was won here in anyway but a perfectly legitimate manner.

First they claim that the decisions of the referee were "biased." It is supposed that they mean he was dishonest in his decisions. Nothing was said about this at the time when it should have been, however, but they waited until they got home and then told their friends about it.

The other charge about Grand Rapids having played Paul Love, a university boy, in their team was a distinct understanding between the two teams. Stevens Point had a first normal man in their team and as two of the Grand Rapids team were sick the Stevens Point men agreed to let Love play in preference to putting out their first normal man. So it would seem that the Journal man was either misinformed or willfully misrepresented the matter.

The game with Wausau for Saturday has been canceled, as the cold weather has kept the boys inside and prevented them from practicing. It is also probable that there will be no game on Thanksgiving day.

A Creamery Trust.

And now capitalists propose to organize a creamery trust. The thing starts in Chicago with a capital of $20,000,000 and will embrace Illinois, Michigan and Wisconsin.

In speaking of the matter the projectors say that there is too much competition among butter producers and by the forming of the trust it will be possible to raise the price of butter. Later they say that heretofore the farmer has been able to dictate the price he was to receive for milk, so that the creameries by being unorganized were helpless.

So it is quite evident that the new trust will raise the price of butter and lower the price of milk, benefiting nobody but the fellows with the $20,000,000 of capital.

Small creameries will be bought out or frozen out as the case necessitates, so that the farmer will have fewer markets for his product and consequently be forced to ship a longer distance at a less price. The projectors figure that they will be operating factories inside of two months. Wonder if this is a good trust or a bad one.

Joseph Demerco Dead.

Joseph Demerco, one of the old settlers in this section, died Tuesday morning from lung trouble after an illness extending over several weeks.

Mr. Demerco was taken quite ill some six weeks ago but had gradually recovered until he was thought to be out of danger. On Sunday, however, he suffered a relapse and although he rallied from this he was taken worse on Monday night and died at 4:30 Tuesday morning.

The deceased was born at Troy, New York, March 4, 1840, so was 60 years old at the time of his death. He has lived in the city during the last thirty years so was one of the old settlers hereabouts. He leaves a wife and son, Wallace to mourn his loss.

The funeral was held on Thursday at 10 o'clock a. m. from the Catholic church.

Broke a Leg.

Merritt Dennison of Rudolph, who has been working in the mill at Port Edwards, had his left leg broken on Thursday of last week. He has been at the Commercial house in this city since the accident and is improving as rapidly as can be expected under the circumstances.

A Card.

We, the undersigned, do hereby agree to refund the money on a 50 cent bottle of Greene's Warranted Syrup of Tar if it fails to cure your cough or cold. We also guarantee a 25 cent bottle to prove satisfactory or money refunded.

John E. Daly,
Johnson & Hill Co.

CRANBERRY PICKING DEVICE.

A Method by Which the Berries Will be Gathered by Suction.

H. O. Kruschke of Auroraville was in the city on Wednesday with an idea and a partial model of a machine for picking cranberries by the use of air, or suction.

As yet the ideas of Mr. Kruschke are very crude as to the working parts of his machine, but those interested in the matter have no doubt that it will be a success when the details are worked out.

Mr. Kruschke exhibited his machine to a number of cranberry growers on Wednesday and showed them what his ideas were on the matter, and suggested that a stock company be formed to take hold of and perfect the matter. Nothing definite was done while the gentleman was here but it is proposed to exhibit the model and explain its workings before the January meeting of the Cranberry Growers' association, when it is expected that enough capital can be interested to carry it to perfection.

The machine will work much like the pneumatic shavings carrier in a planing mill, only on a much smaller scale. The berries will be pulled from the vines by suction and the picker will carry a rubber hose in his hand which when held near the vines will quickly jerk the fruit to their resting place in the body of the machine. Mr. Kruschke has applied for a patent on the idea.

Like our Plan.

Stevens Point residents are agitating the matter of establishing a telephone exchange in that town, to be run on the same plan as the Wood County Telephone company is worked. It seems that they have been paying an exorbitant rate to the Bell people and that they are about tired of it. In speaking of the matter a correspondent to the Gazette describes the matter as follows:

When the local company was organized in Grand Rapids in 1896, the manager of the Wisconsin Telephone company gave warning that he would oppose the movement by the offer of free telephone service. The new company went ahead, nevertheless, and secured signatures from citizens accompanied by the pledge that the signers would not accept inducements that might be held out to them by the old company. Their pledges were adhered to in the face of the open offer on the part of the Wisconsin Telephone company to make one, two or three year contracts for free service. The result was the complete victory of the local company. In this company, every renter has the privilege of becoming the owner of a $50 share of stock. Three-fourths of the renters are stockholders.

What has been gained? The figures are as follows: Within six months of its establishment the rates were reduced considerably from what they had previously been. At the end of eighteen months the nominal rates became $2.25 a month for business places, and $1.00 for residences. At the same time, and ever since, a monthly dividend of 1 1/2 per cent, or 75 cents for each share of stock, has been paid. Deducting this dividend from the rental of stockholders, they pay $1.50 and 25 cents a month for business places and residences respectively. Adding in interest at 6 per cent on a $50 share of stock, these amounts become $1.75 and 50 cents—the actual cost of telephone service to stockholders. The people of Grand Rapids, therefore, get telephones in their residences at one-half what it costs in Stevens Point. Grand Rapids has an exchange of about 300 telephones. We have one-half that number in a city twice as large.

Got What They Wanted.

Some queer things happen at the public library in the course of a life time, in fact, there are so many queer things that those in charge of an institution of this sort think very little of them. The matter referred to happened one day recently when three little tots came in, each with a card, to draw their first book. They didn't ask any advice from anyone, but started right in to find what they wanted and in a short time appeared each with a book very prettily bound in bright colors, the shades of which had caught their eye. Mrs. Evans, the librarian, examined their selections, and found them to comprise a volume on the "Rise and Fall of the Dutch Empire," a work on psychology and the third was something equally profound. The librarian tried to induce them to take something more suited to their age and understanding but could not succeed. No doubt those children are now wondering what public libraries were ever invented for, anyway.

Death of Mrs. Timothy Foley

Mrs. Timothy Foley of Cranmoor died in this city Sunday noon from bowel trouble after having suffered from the complaint for some time. She was brought to this city and was at the home of her brother, John Scott and had been operated on for the malady with the hope of saving her life, but the efforts of the surgeons were unsuccessful and the woman died only a short time after the operation.

The deceased was only twenty-nine years old and leaves a husband and six children to mourn her loss. The remains were taken to Tomah for interment, services being first held in this city.

Dissolved Partnership

The partnership that has heretofore existed between Gordon & Kruger has been dissolved by the withdrawal of Mr. Kruger. Mr. Gordon to continue the business. Mr. Kruger has not decided what he will engage in.

WATERWORKS QUESTION.

Two Propositions Submitted to the Council Tuesday Evening.

At the meeting of the city council Tuesday evening two propositions were submitted for the consideration of that body, one being that published last Saturday in the Tribune and the other being one from the Twin City Electric company. The matter was referred to a committee and they will report on the matter later. Following is the proposition by the Twin City company:

To the Mayor and Common Council of the City of Grand Rapids:

We submit to you a modification of the proposition made you at a recent date, and in case the plan outlined meets with your approval, we request that you immediately appoint a committee consisting of the city attorney and members of the council to work with us in drawing up an ordinance, granting us a franchise for building a waterworks system in connection with our electric light plant, in which the interests of both the city and the company shall be properly guarded; and also to determine the value of the present system and the property now owned by the city for waterworks purposes, and to agree upon some way in which we can acquire the same, either by purchase or lease.

We propose to install a system of water works in accordance with the plans made by C. F. Loweth; we propose to increase our capital stock to $10,000, consisting of 4000 shares at $10.00 per share, and no stock shall be owned by anyone not using water or electric service to the rental value of $2.50 per year, for each share of stock so owned.

It is to be binding upon this company to sell its stock at par to any consumer desiring the same, and if any person owns stock who is not using water or light to the amount of $2.50 per year, for each share said company shall be obliged to purchase such stock provided it is paying dividends at the time. The city of Grand Rapids contracting to take 80 fire hydrants at $40 each per year and 50 arc lamps at $80 each per year.

It is provided that the price paid at any time shall not exceed these figures, but that every five years a readjustment of these rates shall be made by a committee of the common council and said Twin City Electric company, and if the condition of the said company is such as to warrant the same, a reduction shall be made to the city in hydrant and arc lamp rental, but at no time shall the rate to the city for hydrant and arc lamps be less than enough to pay the interest on the bonded indebtedness, and at least $1500 of the principle of said debt each year.

If the city at any time desires an extension of the system, it shall be obliged to take enough hydrant or arc lamps to pay the interest on the cost of said extension, and at least 5 per cent of the said cost each year.

The rates to private consumers shall be of such amount as to enable the company to pay its operating expenses, and cost of maintaining said system, and a dividend to its stockholders of not over 12 percent per year. Any income in excess of this amount shall be applied on bonded indebtedness or new extensions which shall be ordered by the city council.

The business and management of this company shall be under the supervision of a board of five directors elected from among its stockholders; two of whom may be named by the mayor and city council, and none of these directors shall receive any compensation for their services.

It is further provided that said city of Grand Rapids may at any time purchase said electric light or water plant by assuming all indebtedness of said company and paying its stockholders the par value of their stock.

It is hereby provided that the city shall use all its rights and powers in acquiring for the company additional land at the springs, which shall be needed to increase the water supply or storage capacity, and take proper care that said water supply shall not become contaminated by sewerage or in any other way; and in case a sufficient water supply cannot be obtained from these springs, water may be taken from the Wisconsin river above all sewer outlets. In case an expensive filtering system should be required or any extraordinary expense be required which the company would not be able to pay for out of earnings from private consumers, the city shall substantially assist the company by paying higher rental for hydrants, or in some other manner which it may deem advisable.

The matter of naming the streets, which it was thought would be settled at this meeting was laid over owing to the fact that some of the streets will have to be renamed, there being streets of the same name on both sides of the river.

Marriage Licenses.

The following marriage licenses were granted during the past week: Wm. Krelinke of Port Edwards to Minnie Hanson, town of Port Edwards.

Otis Dodge to Alma Brady, both of Port Edwards.

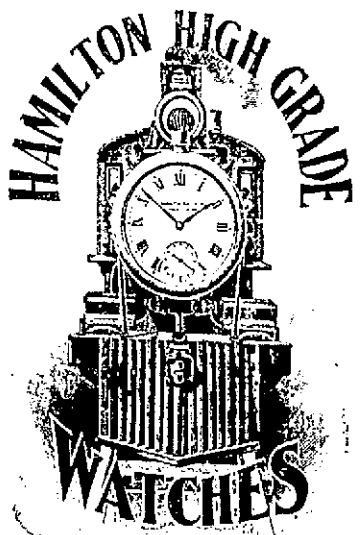

Henry Harding of Clark county to Ida Heinrich of the town of Wood.

Jacob Eammerich of Port Edwards to Anna Clancy of Grand Rapids.

Hugo Bruenpuch of Marshfield to Francis Steinwagner of Marshfield.

For fine dental work, go to Dr. D. A. Teifer, office over Wool County National Bank, Grand Rapids. Will be out of town every Monday and Tuesday.

Washington Letter.

Democratic senators and representatives, who have been in Washington since the election, have not been disposed to talk for publication on the result, not because they are discouraged or that they consider the future of the democratic party in either doubt or danger, but on the general principle that it is always good policy for the defeated party to let the other fellows do the talking for awhile, just as they will have to do the legislating and administering of the country for awhile. For the same reason they think the talk about re-organizing the democratic party, which has been indulged in to a limited extent since the election premature at this time. The best policy for the democrats to adopt for a while is to keep a careful watch on the republicans, show up every blunder they make, and do a whole lot of thinking. It will be two years before there is another congressional election, and until then, the democrats will have no opportunity to get control of any branch of the national government. The gentlemen who are talking about holding conventions, etc., for a re-organization of the party at this time, are doubtless perfectly honest and wholly unselfish in their wishes for the future welfare of the party but if they persist they will surely be suspected by many of being more anxious to get the party reins in their hands than of really helping the party. Party re-organizations, so far as leaders and principles are concerned are things which generally take care of themselves, as has been demonstrated more than once in the history of the democratic party, and doubtless will be again. Party upheavals which are genuine, usually start from the bottom, the rank and file of any party know how to change leaders when they consider it desirable or necessary to do so.

Secretary Root has gone to Cuba and for two reasons his going has caused much gossip in Washington, where it is believed to be connected with matters of importance relating to the future of Cuba. The first of these reasons is that the Cuban Constitutional convention is now in session in Havana, and the second is that this is considered the unhealthy season in Cuba. Mr. Root's health has not been robust since he had that operation performed on him a month or two ago, and he would hardly have chosen this season for his visit to Cuba, unless his going was important.

Just $100,000 more of good American money will be invested in the Philippines if the senate ratifies the treaty signed by Secretary Hay and the Spanish minister, which binds this country to pay Spain that amount for three small islands located just outside of the boundaries set by the treaty which ceded the Philippine islands to the U. S.

The orders sent to Gen. MacArthur, from Washington, to take the field in person in the new campaign that is to be waged against the Philippine insurgents as soon as the rainy season ends over there, show that the administration takes no serious stock in the statement constantly made during the campaign that the re-election of Mr. McKinley would be followed by the collapse of the revolution. That was good enough talk for campaign purposes, but now the orders are to fight it to a finish. In ordering General MacArthur to take the field in person, Gen. Otis, who was so generally criticized for not doing so, is indirectly given a side swipe.

Gossip has mortgaged several cabinet portfolios in the second McKinley administration. As told in Washington, these stories make Mr. W. W. Gibbs, of Philadelphia, who helped Hanna squeeze the rich men and corporations of that town, just as St. John Wanamaker did previous to his entrance of the Harrison Cabinet, the holder of one of these mortgages, and some go so far as to say that Mr. Gibbs is to become secretary of the treasury. If he does, it will be an awful throw down for Secretary Gage, who had understood that he was to remain at the head of the treasury, or he would not have fathered those freak interviews given out during the campaign to alarm the business interests of the country.

It is now practically admitted by republicans that the talk previous to election of a repeal of the war taxes was nothing more than a campaign bluff. A call for the ways and means committee of the house to meet on the 20th inst. has been issued. The bill the committee will prepare will merely revise the war taxes, some campaign obligations are to be paid that way, and will not repeal all of them. The republicans know very well that with the total appropriation by the last session of congress of $674,000,000 and the probability that a larger sum will be appropriated by the coming session all or nearly all of the money produced by the war taxes will be needed. The bill prepared by the committee will probably reduce the war taxes in the interests of favored classes, something like $15,000,000 or $20,000,000 a year, but the bulk of those taxes will have to be paid by the people for an indefinite period.

The royalist republicans, if such a term be allowable, are already talking about making Mr. McKinley's second inauguration an event of real splendor and magnificence. Mr. L. P. McInerney of Indiana, who practices law in Washington in partnership with Gen. W. W. Dudley, is franker than many of them. He said in a public interview about the inauguration: "We should strive to excel in the glory of that day, the splendor of the jubilee of England's Queen."

Thanksgiving Day Proclamation.

A year of unequalled prosperity in all branches of industry, without disaster in any form, gives reason for a feeling of gratitude on the part of the people.

To give opportunity for a public expression of this feeling, and in conformity with the law of the state and a proclamation by the president of the United States, I, Edward Scofield, governor of the state of Wisconsin, do hereby designate and set apart Thursday, November 29, 1900, to be a day of public thanksgiving.

I recommend that upon that day the people of the state, laying aside their usual occupations and industries, and assembling in their places of worship and around the family board, do express in a fitting manner their gratitude to Almighty God for the blessing which have fallen upon our state and nation new responsibilities of profound import have come upon us as a nation, and it should inspire in us a feeling of thankfulness that we are possessed of the moral and material resources necessary to meet them. A people without gratitude are unworthy of prosperity, while they who cultivate a spirit of gratitude are fitted thereby to more wisely meet responsibilities and use the blessings which come to them.

In testimony whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Great Seal of the state of Wisconsin to be affixed.

Done at the capitol, in the city of Madison, this 9th day of November, A. D. 1900. EDWARD SCOFIELD.

By the Governor: WILLIAM H. FROHLICH, secretary of state.

Change of Day.

Hereafter the Tribune will be issued on Friday instead of Saturday as heretofore. This change was found to be necessary for several reasons, the chief among which was the fact that out of town people, who get their mail at either one of the local postoffices seldom received their paper until several days after it was published, and in the case of farmers who come to town only once a week their paper often lay in the office a week before they received it.

High School Notes.

Beginning with next Wednesday upon the second semi-term examinations will be given out. All classes so far are during excellent work as a whole, and the instructors feel confident that there will be few failures.

| Team        | Score |
|-------------|-------|
| 1st Wausau  | 0     |
| 2nd         | 0     |
| 3rd Merrill | 5     |
| 4th Normal  | 5     |
| 5th Merrill | 6     |
| 6th Wausau  | 34    |

Total 6. Won 2. Lost 3. Tied 1.

There has been a great improvement in the daily musical instruction under Mr. Fuller. He feels greatly encouraged with the work done this semi-term.

Miss Fuller is visiting her brother, Wm. Fuller, teacher in the High school.

Joe Christman '04, has been detained from school during the past two weeks on account of sickness, Cleve Akey '01 is also on the sick list.

Parliamentary work has begun under Supt. Hambrecht. A meeting was held last Friday evening at the High school for the purpose of giving instruction in Parliamentary rules. In a short time the Forum will be holding weekly meetings as usual.

Work in the Physics class is necessarily advancing slowly, yet Mr. Hambrecht feels that the class is doing thorough work. The class is working under the subject of Energy.

Paid his Bet.

Louis Fournier, in company with several more of us, thought William Jennings Bryan would be our next president, while Ludwig Gross had picked the winner in the person of William McKinley. A wager was made on the matter before election and Mr. Fournier agreed to furnish Mr. Gross and Mr. and Mrs. Geo. W. Davis with a turkey dinner provided his man lost the race. Mr. Ludwig to have pinned to his back a large lithograph of McKinley and Roosevelt and carry a large American flag in his hand.

The bet was paid on Sunday last and the procession appeared with Mr. Gross at the head topped out as per agreement. Mr. Fournier said afterward that he was on the lookout for them and had they not carried out their part of the agreement they would have got no dinner at his house.

Literary Notes.

The November number of The Household is exceptionally noteworthy. The cover, drawn especially for The Household, is executed in two colors, and tells a pleasing story of Colonial days and ways and is in itself a work of art. The stories are from such well-known writers as Sophie Sweet, Will Allen Bromberg, and J. L. Harbour. There are illustrated articles by Col. T. W. Higginson, Kate Sanborn, and Fannie Bullock Workman—the only woman who has climbed the Himalayas. The illustrations for the month are Chase Emerson, H. W. Colby, Louis Meynell, and E. Jepson.

Under the new management, The Household of Boston, Mass., promises to become one of the first in the field of magazines devoted to home interests.

A glance at the prospectus for the coming year indicates that Household readers will be well supplied with choice selections. Some of the best known and popular authors of the day will contribute to its pages, and the art work and the illustrations will surpass anything heretofore published.

Thomas Wentworth Higginson contributes an article entitled "The Mould of Fortune" in the November Household.

LANDLORD RUNS AWAY.

Hotel Rosebud Proprietor at Junction City Leaves Town.

Junction City was treated to a small sensation last Friday morning when it was learned that F. W. Little, who for some months has been doing the honors as landlord of Hotel Rosebud, had departed from the village with his belongings during the night previous. Mr. Foubare expected to take charge of the house on the 16th inst., and consequently was put to some inconvenience to keep the house open. Mrs. Foubare, who was visiting at Evanston, Ill., was summoned by telegraph, however, and the house was not closed up.

Mr. Foubare will now have personal charge of the hotel and will devote his energies to placing the house higher in the esteem of the traveling public, if possible, than during his previous career as landlord. The change is in reality a desirable one for the proprietor, as the former table excellence, it was claimed by travelers, has not been preserved during Mr. Little's regime.

That Mr. Foubare is a genial, enterprising and accommodating host is evidenced by the popularity and esteem which he has won for the house during his four years' proprietorship.

Teachers' Meetings.

Supt. Leu has issued the schedule and program for teachers' meetings during the ensuing winter, as follows: Marshfield, December 1, 1900, and January 19, 1901.

Pittsfield, December 8, 1900, and February 2, 1901.

Grand Rapids, west side, December 15, 1900, and January 26, 1901.

The following general information follows the program proper.

At the first meeting at Grand Rapids the question of forming a county association will be discussed and voted upon. As many teachers, as possible, from all over the county, should make arrangements to come to this meeting.

Those whose names are on the program, who find it impossible to attend will please provide a substitute and notify the county superintendent of same, giving reasons for non-attendance.

Wherever possible, a class exercise should be given by the one whose name appears first.

There will be a general discussion of about twenty minutes on each topic.

I wish that the schools where these meetings are held would provide the music.

Teachers are requested to bring work done by pupils, which will be exhibited at the meetings.

State Superintendent L. D. Harvey requests that teachers make a list of the library books, classifying them as follows: 1. Those especially valuable in school work; 2. Those most read and most enjoyed by the pupils; 3. Those neither valuable nor interesting. Bring these lists to the first series of meetings.

The State Teachers' Association will meet at Milwaukee, Dec. 26-29.

A cordial invitation is extended to all friends of education. School boards see that your teachers attend.

Excursion Rates.

The C. M. & St. Paul railroad will sell excursion tickets on Nov. 30 and Dec. 1st to Chicago and return at a fare and one third for round trip. Return limit Dec. 10th, account International Line Stock exposition.

On Oct. 23 and 30, Nov. 6, 13, 20 and 27, 1900 the C. M. & St. P. R. R. Co., will sell tickets both one way and round trip to points on Northern Pacific, Great Northern and Soo Line railways and their connections in the west at reduced rates. For further particulars inquire of local agent.

L. M. SCHLATTERER, Agent.

Pluralities in Wood County.

According to the best returns obtainable the pluralities in Wood county are about as follows:

McKinley over Bryan 1257.
LaFollette over Bohmrich 1234.
Minor over Morgan 1060.
Cady over Reeves 528.
Searls over Fleckenstein 694.
McLaughlin over Ward 720.
Lusk over Getts 869.
Podawiltz over White 425.
Wippenman over Conway 636.
Upham over Vaughn 680.
Pitts over McCrecher 650.

The democratic candidates for county officers made a remarkable run and it is safe to say that if this had not been a presidential campaign every one of them would have been elected. Although defeated the democratic candidates may feel proud of their vote.

What one of our Customers Says of the

RADIANT HOME

BASE BURNER.

We never had a coal stove around the house until last Saturday. Have always used pine slabs and pieces of our neighbor's fence. They burn well, too, but the fence got all burned up, and the neighbor said he wouldn't build a new one, so we went down to Johnson & Hill Co.'s and got a coal stove. It is called the "Radiant Home," is manufactured by BLACK & GERMER of Erie, Pa., and any man that says we didn't have a radiant home at our house for about four hours last Saturday night is a Republican and a villain. You see we didn't know anything about coal stoves. We filled the Radiant Home about half full of pine fence, and, when the stuff got well to going, we filled the artesian well on top with coal. It sizzled and spluttered about five or ten minutes, and all went out, and we put on an overcoat and a pair of buckskin mittens and "went out, too,"—to supper. We remarked in the course of the frugal meal that Johnson & Hill Co. were "frods" for recommending such a confounded refrigerator to a man to get warm by. After supper we took a piece of ice and rubbed our hands warm, and went in where that stove was, resolved to make her draw and burn if it took all the pine fence in the First ward. Our better half threw a quilt over her and shiveringly remarked that she never knew what real solid comfort was until she got a coal stove. Stung by the sarcasm in her remark, we turned every dingus on the stove that was movable or looked like it had anything to do with a draft, and pretty soon the Radiant Home began to heave up heat. It was not long before she stuttered like the new Silsby steamer. Talk about your heat! In ten minutes that room was as much worse than a Turkish bath as Hades is hotter than Ketchum's ice house. The perspiration fairly fried out of a tin water cooler in the next room. We opened the doors and snow began to melt as far up River street as the Green Bay & Western depot, and people all round the neighborhood put on linen clothes. And we couldn't stop the confounded thing. We forgot what McCamley told us about the dampers and she kept a biling. The only thing we could do was to go to bed and leave the thing to burn the house up if it wanted to. We stood off with a pole and turned the damper every way, and at every turn she just sent out heat enough to roast an ox. We went to bed supposing that the coal would eventually burn out, but about twelve o'clock the whole family had to get up and sit on the fence. Finally a man came along who had been brought up among coal stoves, and he put a wet blanket over him and crept up to the stove and turned the proper dingus and she cooled off, and since that time has been just as comfortable as possible. If you buy a coal stove you want to learn how to engineer it, or you may get roasted.

It is probable that the K. P. ball on Thanksgiving night will eclipse any thing of the kind that has been held in this city for some time. The ladies will serve supper and everything will be done to make it an enjoyable affair.

Joseph L. Whitney, who has made
his home here for the past fifty years,
celebrated his 74th birthday on Wednesday last, and has daughter, Mrs.
Win. Scott, gave a dinner in honor of the event. Mr. Whitney has seen some wonderful changes in this part of the country since he first began to lumber in this section.

W. D. Connor of Marshfield was in the city yesterday.

Register of Deeds-elect E. A. Up-

yesterday and made us a pleasant
call.

Dr. G. F. Witter returned from Marshfield on Wednesday, where he had been visiting his daughter, Mrs.
W. D. Connor.

A real snowstorm occurred on Tuesday and it looked for a time as if it
had started in for a protracted siege of winter weather. It turned out to be only the weekly anniversary of the snowstorm that occurred the previous Tuesday, however.

A. W. Bryant came down from Marshfield on Monday having started on a gang of men at the north end at putting up poles, etc. The prospects are that the new line will progress rapidly should the weather be at all favorable.

—We pray thee, heed him not who asketh thee to take something, said to

—F. H. Norton, the stove man is doing a rushing business these days repairing, cleaning and setting up stoves. It pays to give a good price
and have your stoves fixed right.

Clark and Geo. Snyder brought in three fine deer on Wednesday as ever seen in this section. The three were bucks and weighed about 180 pounds apiece and did not vary over two pounds in weight. They were purchased by Nic Reiland.

The condemnation proceedings that
were started against the land owned by the lumber firm of Gordon & Kruger by the Northwestern road have
been settled by the gentlemen giving
the road officials an option on the property at a satisfactory figure to them.

—F. H. Norton has a first class man and is able now to do all kinds of work. Pumps repaired, water pipes
fixed and all kinds of general work done besides. Stoves put in the best of order.

Next Saturday, Nov. 17, at 2 p. m.
the Ladies Aid Society of the Scandinavian Moravian church will give a supper in the G. A. R. Hall on the east side, price 25 cents. All are cordially invited. The young ladies club known as the Willing Heart society will hold
a bazaar at the same time and place
at which they will have for sale some beautiful specimens of fancy work.

A number of the friends of Miss Celia McCarthy got their heads together and tendered that young lady
a surprise party on Wednesday evening, the occasion being that young lady's birthday. Among those present were Misses Nora Slattery, Jessie
Stetser, Laura McCarthy, Kate Mc-
Carthy and Ida Allen; Dr. J. C. Con-
niff, Bert Bever, John Avery, Richard
Wiperman, Herman Wiperman, Ray
Love, C. V. Snyder and Dr. D. Waters.

Stevens Point Gazette: D. D. Conway, the present district attorney of Wood county, who was a candidate for re-election, won the sobriquet of
the "Tall Sycamore of the Wisconsin," during the campaign. He, with the other candidates on the Democratic ticket, made a stirring campaign, but were defeated. Wood county gave McKinley a plurality of over 1,200 but Conway was beaten by H. H. Wiperman
by only about 600.

A farmer's team made a wild dash
across the bridge on Thursday and narrowly escaped striking the team
belonging to the Centralia Hardware company, which was crossing in the opposite direction. Dan St. Amour,
who had charge of the hardware team,
managed to get his rig close enough
to the side so that everything escaped without injury. The farm team kept well in the middle of the road and turned north and when last seen had
not suffered any damage.

If you are downhearted, deep in business troubles, there is one prescription that is sure to benefit you.
The old maxim that "a hearty laugh
is the best of cures" contains more truth than a great many people think,
and the physician who can give you more laughs in a single evening than Barney Ferguson is yet to be born. A long, hearty laugh is a pleasant prescription to take, and you should join
the merry throng of patients at the Grand Opera house Monday, Nov. 19.

—If your children are fretful,
peevish and cross, mother the same,
ditto the boss, it would seem proper to give 'em all Rocky Mountain Tea.

Roy Stringer had an exciting runaway on Tuesday. He had on a load of household furniture and was passing down French street when some article fell from the wagon. Mr.
Stringer got down to replace it when
the team became frightened and started to run. Stringer got ahold of
the reins and in spite of the fact that the team was making a good rate of progress down the street managed to hang onto them. The furniture was spilled out and pretty well smashed up.

It will not be a surprise to any who
are at all familiar with the good qualities of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy,
to know that people everywhere take pleasure in relating their experience
in the use of that splendid medicine
and in telling of the benefit they have received from it. of bad colds it has cured, of threatened attacks of pneumonia it has averted and of the children it has saved from attacks of croup and whooping cough. It is a grand, good medicine. For sale by Johnson & Hill Co. druggists.

Last week J. D. Witter shipped to the Rev. G. M. Cottrell, of Hammond, Louisiana, a library of books containing 67 volumes. The books were a present to the reverend gentleman and
were selected with great care by the librarians in this city and were all given in their way. There were also cards and instructions so that the
books could be loaned out if desirable.
These books, if taken care of and added
to in only a moderate way, will serve as the starter for a fine library.

BOARD IN SESSION.

SOME TOWNS TO BE DIVIDED.

Several Resolutions to be Introduced That May Cause Some Discussion.

The fall session of the county board convened at the courthouse on Tuesday. The personnel of the board is the same as last spring. The appointment of Geo. I. Strang of Marshfield as poor commissioner is place of Egbert McLees, deceased, was affirmed by the board, and L. E. Colvin appointed as commissioner of the Pitts-ville district.

It is rumored that a resolution will be introduced to divide the town of Wood into three sections and divide the towns of Vesper and Seneca so as to make three towns out of the two. This will make the towns more of an ordinary size.

It is also probable that a resolution will be introduced to change the method of taking care of the county poor; that is to have each town pay for the number of indigents they have, as was the former custom in the county. So far as can be learned this scheme is not generally favored by the members of the board.

The different committees were at work until Friday noon at their work, so that nothing was done by the board until yesterday afternoon.

Dr. O. T. Hougen received the appointment as county physician for this end of the county. Last year there was no physician, as none of the doctors put in a bid for the position.

That Football Game.

From all that can be learned in this city it would seem that the Journal of Stevens Point was a trifle off its trolley when it claimed in that the football game was won here in anyway but a perfectly legitimate manner.

First they claim that the decisions of the referee were "biased." It is supposed that they mean he was dishonest in his decisions. Nothing was said about this at the time when it should have been, however, but they waited until they got home and then told their friends about it.

The other charge about Grand Rapids having played Paul Love, a university boy, in their team was a distinct understanding between the two teams. Stevens Point had a first normal man in their team and as two of the Grand Rapids team were sick the Stevens Point men agreed to let Love play in preference to putting out their first normal man. So it would seem that the Journal man was either misinformed or willfully misrepresented the matter.

The game with Wausau for Saturday has been canceled, as the cold weather has kept the boys inside and prevented them from practicing. It is also probable that there will be no game on Thanksgiving day.

A Creamery Trust.

And now capitalists propose to organize a creamery trust. The thing starts in Chicago with a capital of $20,000,000 and will embrace Illinois, Michigan and Wisconsin.

In speaking of the matter the projectors say that there is too much competition among butter producers and by the forming of the trust it will be possible to raise the price of butter. Later they say that heretofore the farmer has been able to dictate the price he was to receive for milk, so that the creameries by being unorganized were helpless.

So it is quite evident that the new trust will raise the price of butter and lower the price of milk, benefitting nobody but the fellows with the $20,000,000 of capital.

Small creameries will be bought out or frozen out as the case necessitates, so that the farmer will have fewer markets for his product and consequently be forced to ship a longer distance at a less price. The projectors figure that they will be operating factories inside of two months. Wonder if this is a good trust or a bad one.

Joseph Demerco Dead.

Joseph Demerco, one of the old settlers in this section, died Tuesday morning from lung trouble after an illness extending over several weeks.

Mr. Demerco was taken quite ill some six weeks ago but had gradually recovered until he was thought to be out of danger. On Sunday, however, he suffered a relapse and although he rallied from this he was taken worse on Monday night and died at 4:30 Tuesday morning.

The deceased was born at Troy, New York, March 4, 1840, so was 60 years old at the time of his death. He has lived in the city during the last thirty years so was one of the old settlers hereabouts. He leaves a wife and son, Wallace to mourn his loss.

The funeral was held on Thursday at 10 o'clock a. m. from the Catholic church.

Broke a Leg.

Merritt Dennison of Rudolph, who has been working in the mill at Port Edwards, had his left leg broken on Thursday of last week. He has been at the Commercial House in this city since the accident and is improving as rapidly as can be expected under the circumstances.

A Card.

We, the undersigned, do hereby agree to refund the money on a 50 cent bottle of Greene's Warranted Syrup of Tar if it fails to cure your cough or cold. We also guarantee a 25 cent bottle to prove satisfactory or money refunded.

CRANBERRY PICKING DEVICE.

A Method by Which the Berries Will be Gathered by Suction.

H. O. Kruschke of Auroraville was in the city on Wednesday with an idea and a partial model of a machine for picking cranberries by the use of air, or suction.

As yet the ideas of Mr. Kruschke are very crude as to the working parts of his machine, but those interested in the matter have no doubt that it will be a success when the details are worked out.

Mr. Kruschke exhibited his machine to a number of cranberry growers on Wednesday and showed them what his ideas were on the matter, and suggested that a stock company be formed to take hold of and perfect the matter. Nothing definite was done while the gentleman was here but it is proposed to exhibit the model and explain its workings before the January meeting of the Cranberry Growers' association, when it is expected that enough capital can be interested to carry it to perfection.

The machine will work much like the pneumatic shavings carrier in a planing mill, only on a much smaller scale. The berries will be pulled from the vines by suction and the picker will carry a rubber hose in his hand which when held near the vines will quickly jerk the fruit to their resting place in the body of the machine. Mr. Kruschke has applied for a patent on the idea.

Like our Plan.

Stevens Point residents are agitating the matter of establishing a telephone exchange in that town, to be run on the same plan as the Wood County Telephone company is worked. It seems that they have been paying an exorbitant rate to the Bell people and that they are about tired of it. In speaking of the matter a correspondent to the Gazette describes the matter as follows:

When the local company was organized in Grand Rapids in 1896, the manager of the Wisconsin Telephone company gave warning that he would oppose the movement by the offer of free telephone service. The new company went ahead, nevertheless, and secured signatures from citizens accompanied by the pledge that the signers would not accept inducements that might be held out to them by the old company. Their pledges were adhered to in the face of the open offer on the part of the Wisconsin Telephone company to make one, two or three year contracts for free service. The result was the complete victory of the local company. In this company, every renter has the privilege of becoming the owner of a $50 share of stock. Three-fourths of the renters are stockholders.

What has been gained? The figures are as follows: Within six months of its establishment the rates were reduced considerably from what they had previously been. At the end of eighteen months the nominal rates became $2.25 a month for business places, and $1.00 for residences. At the same time, and ever since, a monthly dividend of 1½ per cent, or 75 cents for each share of stock, has been paid. Deducting this dividend from the rental of stockholders, they pay $1.50 and 25 cents a month for business places and residences respectively. Adding in interest at 6 per cent on a $50 share of stock, these amounts become $1.75 and 50 cents—the actual cost of telephone service to stockholders. The people of Grand Rapids, therefore, get telephones in their residences at one-half what it costs in Stevens Point. Grand Rapids has an exchange of about 300 telephones. We have one-half that number in a city twice as large.

Got What They Wanted.

Some queer things happen at a public library in the course of a life time. In fact, there are so many queer things that those in charge of an institution of this sort think very little of them. The matter referred to happened one day recently when three little tots came in, each with a card, to draw their first book. They didn't ask any advice from anyone, but started right in to find what they wanted and in a short time appeared each with a book very prettily bound in bright colors, the shades of which had caught their eye. Mrs. Evans, the librarian, examined their selections, and found them to comprise a volume on the "Rise and Fall of the Dutch Empire," a work on psychology and the third was something equally profound. The librarian tried to induce them to take something more suited to their age and understanding but could not succeed. No doubt those children are now wondering what public libraries were ever invented for, anyway.

Death of Mrs. Timothy Foley

Mrs. Timothy Foley of Cranmoor died in this city Sunday noon from bowel trouble after having suffered from the complaint for some time. She was brought to this city and was at the home of her brother, John Scott and had been operated on for the malady with the hope of saving her life, but the efforts of the surgeons were unsuccessful and the woman died only a short time after the operation. The deceased was only twenty-nine years old and leaves a husband and six children to mourn her loss. The remains were taken to Tonah for interment, services being first held in this city.

Dissolved Partnership

The partnership that has heretofore existed between Gordon & Kruger has been dissolved by the withdrawal of Mr. Kruger. Mr. Gordon to continue the business. Mr. Kruger has not decided what he will engage in.

WATERWORKS QUESTION.

Two Propositions Submitted to the Council Tuesday Evening.

At the meeting of the city council Tuesday evening two propositions were submitted for the consideration of that body, one being that published last Saturday in the Tribune and the other being one from the Twin City Electric company. The matter was referred to a committee and they will report on the matter later. Following is the proposition by the Twin City company:

To the Mayor and Common Council of the City of Grand Rapids:

We submit to you a modification of the proposition made you at a recent date, and in case the plan outlined meets with your approval, we request that you immediately appoint a committee consisting of the city attorney and members of the council to work with us in drawing up an ordinance, granting us a franchise for building a waterworks system in connection with our electric light plant, in which the interests of both the city and the company shall be properly guarded; and also to determine the value of the present system and the property now owned by the city for waterworks purposes, and to agree upon some way in which we can acquire the same, either by purchase or lease.

We propose to install a system of water works in accordance with the plans made by C. F. Loweth; we propose to increase our capital stock to $40,000, consisting of 4000 shares at $10.00 per share, and no stock shall be owned by anyone not using water or electric service to the rental value of $2.50 per year, for each share of stock so owned.

It is to be binding upon this company to sell its stock at par to any consumer desiring the same, and if any person owns stock who is not using water or light to the amount of $2.50 per year, for each share said company shall be obliged to purchase such stock provided it is paying dividends at the time. The city of Grand Rapids contracting to take 80 fire hydrants at $40 each per year and 50 arc lamps at $80 each per year.

It is provided that the price paid at any time shall not exceed these figures, but that every five years a readjustment of these rates shall be made by a committee of the common council and said Twin City Electric company, and if the condition of the said company is such as to warrant the same, a reduction shall be made to the city in hydrant and arc lamp rental, but at no time shall the rate to the city for hydrant and arc lamps be less than enough to pay the interest on the bonded indebtedness, and at least $1500 of the principle of said debt each year.

If the city at any time desires an extension of the system, it shall be obliged to take enough hydrant or arc lamps to pay the interest on the cost of said extension, and at least 5 per cent of the said cost each year.

The rates to private consumers shall be of such amount as to enable the company to pay its operating expenses, and cost of maintaining said system, and a dividend to its stockholders of not over 12 percent per year. Any income in excess of this amount shall be applied on bonded indebtedness or new extensions which shall be ordered by the city council.

The business and management of this company shall be under the supervision of a board of five directors elected from among its stockholders; two of whom may be named by the mayor and city council, and none of these directors shall receive any compensation for their services.

It is further provided that said city of Grand Rapids may at any time purchase said electric light or water plant by assuming all indebtedness of said company and paying its stockholders the par value of their stock.

It is hereby provided that the city shall use all its rights and powers in acquiring for the company additional land at the springs, which shall be needed to increase the water supply or storage capacity, and take proper care that said water supply shall not become contaminated by sewerage or in any other way; and in case a sufficient water supply cannot be obtained from these springs, water may be taken from the Wisconsin river above all sewer outlets. In case an expensive filtering system should be required or any extraordinary expense be required which the company would not be able to pay for out of earnings from private consumers, the city shall substantially assist the company by paying higher rental for hydrants, or in some other manner which it may deem advisable.

The matter of naming the streets, which it was thought would be settled at this meeting was laid over owing to the fact that some of the streets will have to be renamed, there being streets of the same name on both sides of the river.

Marriage Licenses.

The following marriage licenses were granted during the past week:

Wm. Krehne of Port Edwards to Minnie Hanson, town of Port Edwards.
Otis Dodge to Alma Brady, both of Port Edwards.

RECOVER LOST JEWEL.

Arrest in New York of Mexicans with the Maximilian Diamond.

New York, Nov. 13.—The biggest diamond ever seized in the United States for non-payment of duty was locked up last night in the safe in the office of Collector of Port Bidwell. Two Mexicans, charged with smuggling, were in cells in Ludlow street jail. Special Treasury Agent Theobald, who made the arrests, regards it as the most important diamond seizure ever made for the value of the gems themselves there is a romance in every one of them. The prisoners are Valino J. Preza and Alexander A. Maruccci.

FROM MAXIMILIAN'S CROWN.

The great diamond was once the blinding center in the crown of Maximilian I. Mexico's first and only Emperor, whose execution set the world agog. When he was in the south of his native land he had the splendid stone taken from his crown and made into a pendant for the Empress Carlotta. On her neck it nestled at many a court function, till she was driven into exile in 1867, after Napoleon III. had failed to make Mexico an empire and the Mexicans put Maximilian on the throne. The stone was put in the hands of a jeweler to be sold. The royal diamond, roughly estimated at $40,000, has been missing until yesterday. In addition to it the arrested men had two magnificent diamond solitaire rings, six carats apiece, each worth $50,000.

A private detective was the first to find, through a correspondent in the City of Mexico, that the missing Maximilian stone was in this country. He gave the "tip" to Collector Bidwell, who detailed Theobald on the case. He learned that two Mexicans with the gems had crossed the border at Laredo, Tex., some three weeks ago. They spent a few days in St. Louis, and a fortnight ago arrived in New York.

Try to Sell to Jewelers.

Theobald sought out the big jewelry stores and got his first clue at Tiffany's where several days ago five swarthy men brought in a huge diamond, many carats and of dazzling brightness. Eighteen superb white stones surrounded the center one and three more set off the pendant links. The whole was mounted in a simple gold necklace. Tiffany & Co. refused to buy it, though well aware of its value.

At noon yesterday Agent Theobald saw three men in a jewelry store in Sixteenth street trying to sell something. They failed and went away. Theobald hurried inside.

"They had a superb emerald-colored diamond," said the jeweler, "weighing more than 23 karats. I offered them $20,000 for it and they wouldn't take it. It's worth $40,000."

Theobald hurried over to Broadway and spied the trio sunning up the street. He called a policeman and the three men walked up to the Mexicans at Seventeenth street.

"You are under arrest," said Theobald. At that Preza passed a big, brown wallet and a red leather jewel case over to him. The jeweler, who had been waiting for the case, opened it and the three men walked up to the Mexicans at Seventeenth street.

ASK TOO MUCH OF CHINA.

Conditions Imposed Said to be Impossible of Fulfillment.

PRINCES' PUNISHMENT.

The Foreign Ministers Are Making Good Progress in Arranging a Basis for Negotiations.

London, Nov. 14.—A dispatch to the Times from Dr. Morrison in Peking, dated November 11, says:

"As far as it is possible to judge, China will willingly accede to all the terms of the conjoint note now ready to be presented subject to the approval of the home governments, except the demand for the death penalty against princes and officials, which it is impossible to fulfill while the court is in the hands of these opposed officials."

"Regarding the Americans' alleged opposition to the execution of Chinese officials," says the Times' editorial leader, "none of the powers desire to inflict upon any one of them more than their just deserts. The American people, we are confident, cannot desire that they should receive less. If this be the case it is difficult to see how America could justify in other eyes the refusal upon her part to join the other powers in steps which may be needed to secure this result, as a result as indispensable to the protection of her interests in China as to the protection of those of the rest of the commercial powers."

A dispatch to the Times from Shanghai, November 12, says: "It is strongly held here that the terms of peace offered by the Chinese government to the Chinese soldiers from the neighborhood of Shanghai. The native press states that Li Kuang-nung Chang Chih Tung to co-operate in repelling any expedition against Sincin Fu, via Hankow."

Public opinion is much gratified by the apparently firm stand taken regarding the northern railways, which it is hoped indicates a more dignified policy and an asserting of British interests."

Making Good Progress.

Peking, Nov. 12 (via Shanghai, Nov. 14).—A protracted conference of the foreign ministers was held today, at the conclusion of which the Chinese government expressed gratification at the progress made toward reaching a settlement. It was stated that most of the minor points had been disposed of and that an agreement had been reached upon several essential questions. The meeting was characterized by differences over important points than was expected, which is largely due to the fact that the ministers have received definite instructions from their home governments.

United States Minister Conger said he was encouraged to believe that propositions would be ready to be submitted to the Chinese plenipotentiaries at an earlier date than he had heretofore hoped.

Reliable information from Niu Chwanz indicates a disturbed condition of affairs there. Reports are being received concerning the stability of the concert of the powers in China. The attitude of Germany and the United States meet with disapproval, the former because Count von Waldersee has sent a column to destroy the Ming tombs, and the latter because it threatens to break up the concert.

The Daily Chronicle comments strongly upon the American attitude as a "feeble compromise which it is impossible to accept."

The Morning Post says: "It would be unreasonable for the United States to break up the concert because they do not desire indemnity. The powers would object, and, however, the United States have in view some new combination of powers, it would be necessary for Great Britain and Germany to agree upon a common policy to be pursued in the absence of a general agreement."

CHINA IN A DILEMMA.

Impossible to Inflict the Death Penalty on Princes and Generals.

Peking, Nov. 12.—A high Chinese official said today that if the powers insist on the condemnation and punishment of all those named in the original act, eleven princes and generals, it will be impossible to agree to this, even if she were willing to do so. China will doubt agree that the foreigners shall hit the Taku forts and military posts.

She will also not object to the maintenance of legation guards, the payment of indemnity, or the prohibition of further importation of arms, but it is impossible to carry out the death penalty, except in a few cases, even though China may agree to do so.

It is thought here that China will follow the same policy which she pursued during the Sino-Japanese war, and Japan at the close of the war with that country. After the receipt of the Japanese proposals at that time China presented counter proposals which Japan declined to accept, and gave the Chinese a few days to agree to the original suggestions. China's position in this respect, however, is better at the present time, because of the diversity of interests represented, at least one of which is playing as her host.

There is every indication at present that Russia will be inclined to make things as easy as possible for China in the settlement of the trouble.

AN ORIGINAL DISCOVERY.

Chinese Troubles Threaten to Ruin the Russian Empire.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 14.—The Russian has made the original discovery that the Chinese troubles "threaten to ruin the Russian empire." If the powers, it is added, continue their present policy, China will be unable to pay a money indemnity and consequently the powers will demand and secure mining, railroad and commercial concessions which will result in the division of China into spheres of influence and ultimately into the partition of China, in spite of the assurances of the powers to the contrary. The Chinese, it is further asserted, indignantly will emigrate to Siberia and the "yellow herd" will "again precipitate itself to the position of a second-rank power. The other powers probably will be satisfied with this eventually, their interests being solely commercial."

The Novoe Vremya finds this situation worse and says the powers must act independently. Henceforth, it asserts, each power must bear the responsibility of its own army. The paper adds: "While the ministers were in danger of in-chief, but after Russia freed Tien Tsin and played the first flag on the walls of Peking, she wisely withdrew a majority of her troops from Count von Waldersee's command. The other powers should closely define von Waldersee's functions."

Continuing the Japanese-Russian discussion, the Novoe Vremya says: "The English journals in the Japanese press have convinced the Japanese that they can easily vanquish the Russians. However, the English backdown in the case of Port Arthur has opened Japanese eyes. The present campaign gave the armies of the two powers an opportunity to learn and estimate each other."

Several of the papers take their cue from the Novoe Vremya and follow up its arguments in the same strain. The Boerse Gazette observes that "all the nations are seeking a Japanese alliance, but Russia alone is valueless."

The paper adds: "Russia and Japan will dictate the future of East Asia."

PROOF OF CHINESE GUILT.

Ante-Mortem Dispatches of the German Minister to Peking.

Berlin, Nov. 14.—The foreign office publishes reports from the German legation at Peking, dated from May 21 to August 21. The late Baron von Ketteler's dispatches, described exhaustively the progress of the Boxer movement, demonstrating the guilt of the Chinese government.

Secretary of Legation von Buelow, dealing with the disturbances at Peking from June 12 to June 30, says that with the appointment of Prince Tuan to the presidency of the Tsung li Yamen notification of which was given June 10 to the foreign ministers, the Chinese government "let fall the mask." He adds that it was equivalent to a declaration of war. A dragon-man of the German legation in these reports narrates the murder of Baron von Ketteler. He says it was a carefully-planned act of vengeance upon the part of certain high representatives of the Chinese government, whom von Ketteler had repeatedly accused, even to their faces, of double-dealing black-jackets.

DANGER OF REPRISALS.

Harsh Demands on China will Meet with Opposition.

CAPTURE THE ARSENAL.

Russians Kill 200 Chinese and Take Arms and Treasure—Monument in China for Von Ketteler.

London, Nov. 13.—A special dispatch from Tien Tsin, dated November 10, says a force of Russians has captured the arsenal northeast of Yang Tsun, with trifling loss, killing 200 Chinese and capturing a quantity of arms and treasure.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 13.—Considerable dissatisfaction is felt in official circles here over the attitude of the foreign ministers in Peking in their arrangement of a programme of reprisals against the Chinese government. So far this government is the only one of the powers that has pointed out what it conceives to be the danger of demanding the execution of princes of the imperial family and other high dignitaries concerned in the Boxer outrages. The government is convinced that many of these men should be punished severely, but it believes that the ministers desire to carry out a policy that is so bloodthirsty that it will meet with strenuous opposition by the Chinese, and perhaps result in difficulties which may hamper subsequent hostilities.

All the nations, with the exception of the United States, are believed to be in accord with the desire of the ministers to adopt a comprehensive programme of punishments, and for the sake of uniformity this government may be obliged to acquiesce.

The advices received here from Peking indicate that the indemnity which the powers will demand from China will be beyond the means of the Chinese treasury. A sum of $500,000,000 is regarded in Washington with surprise. "They might as well ask for $5,000,000,000," said one official. "China is in debt almost up to the hilt, and could not raise $500,000,000 even with a new and profitable pecuniary time."

A convention for the payment of the $100,000,000 indemnity to Japan on account of the war with that country. The idea here is that China should be made to pay as much as she is able, but not made a bankrupt nation by exorbitant demands."

Demands on China.

London, Nov. 13.—Dr. Morrison, the Peking correspondent of the London Times, in a dispatch dated November 11, says:

Pressed by a common desire to speedily terminate the present conditions, the foreign ministers have finally agreed upon the following terms, to be presented in a conjoint note, which, subject to the approval of the governments, is to be applied upon China:

"As a basis to a preliminary treaty China shall erect a monument to Baron von Ketteler at the site of the murder and send an imperial prince to Germany to convey an apology from China."

"China shall inflict the death penalty on the eleven guilty high officials and princes whose names have already been sent to you."

"Where the outrages have occurred all provincial examinations shall be suspended for five years."

"In the future all officials who have not made due effort to prevent outrages upon foreigners from being committed within their jurisdiction shall be immediately removed from office and punished. This is a modification of Conger's proposal that indemnity should be paid to states, corporations and individuals."

Form of Government Must Change.

The Tsung li Yamen, as at present constituted, is to be abolished, and the functions vested in a foreign minister, as in civilized countries, and rational intercourse must be permitted with the Emperor, as in civilized countries.

"The Taku forts and other forts on the coast of Chi Li are to be razed and the forts in the interior of the empire to be razed for two years throughout the empire suppressing the Boxers."

The indemnity includes compensation to Chinese who suffered through being employed by foreigners, but not compensation to native Christians, the words missionaries and Christians not occurring in the note.

PEKIN AN OPEN PORT.

Capital Punishment Without Trial to be Abolished.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 13.—In addition to the points said to be agreed upon at Peking as a basis for settlement with China the city of Peking is to be an "open port."

While it is not on the seas, the port is to be open to all ships of commerce and intercourse with foreigners which now applies only to those open ports designated by treaties with China. The suggestion that this action be taken has been made in high Chinese quarters, and its advisability is urged because it will be a concrete demonstration of the sincerity of the Chinese empire, the center of indifference throughout the country. Another point which may be proposed is that capital punishment by beheading or otherwise shall not occur in future by imperial edicts, but only after a trial before a court of law.

Such as is given in civilized countries, the accused having an opportunity to be heard. This does not apply to the executions made necessary by the Boxer movement.

PUNITIVE RAIDS CRITICISED.

China to be Required to Erect a Number of Expiatory Monuments.

Peking, Nov. 11, Sunday, via Shanghai, Nov. 13.—Another small German expedition goes north tomorrow, in spite of the fact that these punitive raids are strongly criticised here, as serving no good purpose.

Reports of the death of the Dowager Empress are persistent, though there is no official confirmation of them, and a negotiation with the court being very irregular. There is a growing belief, however, that she will never return to Peking.

Berlin, Nov. 13.—A semi-official dispatch from Peking, dated November 12, gives the text of the joint note of the powers to China. Among the additional stipulations the note requires China to erect expiatory monuments in every foreign or international burial ground where graves have been profaned.

Mexican Youth Dies Because Sweetheart Waltzed with Another.

El Paso, Tex., Nov. 13.—Jealousy prompted Ignacio Bustillos, a Mexican youth, to take his own life last night at a Mexican ball. His sweetheart was waltzing with another man. Bustillos shot himself in the presence of all the assembled guests. For a time almost a panic reigned. The woman was seized with hysterics and had to be attended by a physician.

GOES TO WIDOW.

Marcus Daly's Millions to be Held in Trust for the Four Children.

New York, Nov. 14.—Marcus Daly's great fortune, amassed in the mines of Montana, is to go to his widow, to be held by her in trust for the four children, Margaret, Mary C., Harriet and Marcus, Jr., the 17-year-old son. Just how much the dead millionaire left has not been figured, but it is estimated by those familiar with his affairs to be not less than $40,000,000. The estate has increased enormously during the past two years, and in addition Mr. Daly is known to have made large sums in speculation.

Mr. Daly had a bitter hatred for fortune-seekers through marriage and for a claimant for the hands of his daughters he has forbidden his home because of the suspicion he had against them. He has guarded against all of this class of men enjoying the fruits of his hard labors by placing his entire wealth in the hands of his widow.

The body of Mr. Daly rests in the grand reception room of his palatial home at 725 Fifth avenue, the home he dreamed of all his life and finally reared never to occupy except in a piece of clay. Friends came in large numbers to look upon the face of the dead.

The funeral arrangements have been completed. The body will be taken to St. Patrick's cathedral Thursday morning, where a requiem mass will be celebrated. Then the body will be taken to Calvary cemetery to be placed in a temporary receiving vault. It will finally rest in an imposing mausoleum.

JEFFRIES WILL FIGHT SHARKEY.

Battle Next May Before the Club that Will Offer the Largest Purse.

New York, Nov. 14.—A match was made in this city today between James J. Jeffries, the champion pugilist, and Tom Sharkey. The terms in the agreement are that the winner shall take the entire purse. The battle will be decided next May before the club offering the largest purse. If the battle takes place in Nevada it will be a finish. Bids for the fight will remain open until January 15. Marquis of Queensberry rules will govern the contest and five-ounce gloves will be used. Each principal deposited $2500 to insure his appearance in the ring. The articles also contained the provision that should Jeffries make a match with either Bob Fitzsimmons or Gus Rubin that battle will be decided before the present one. The same conditions prevail in regard to a match being made between Sharkey and Rubin.

WOMAN LEADS REBELS.

Beautiful Amazon, Thought to be of Royal Blood, at Head of Rioting in Spain.

London, Nov. 14.—Something more than a tinge of romance is given the Carlist uprising in Spain by the discovery that a beautiful Amazon led the rebellious hosts in Catalonia.

The Daily Mail's Madrid correspondent says: "She was elegantly dressed and a finished equestrian and her carriage revealed a beautiful and distinguished woman."

"Some suspect that she is Donna Blanca, the Duchess of Braganza, infantina of Portugal, and the wife of Don Alfonso, who is a Carlist, and her carriage was who took an active part in the last civil war in Spain, fighting in the foremost ranks of the Carlists."

"It is hardly likely, however, that Donna Blanca is taking a part in the present adventure, for the famous Amazon is one of the women of rank who abound in the Carlist party, and are among the most devoted adherents of the pretender."

REICHSTAG IN SESSION.

Strong Speech from Throne in Relation to Recent Events in China.

Berlin, Nov. 14.—The Reichstag reassembled today. The speech from the throne dwelt at considerable length on the events in China which have excited such deep emotion among civilized people, saying: "Fanatical hate and dark superstition, incited by unscrupulous advisers of the court, have driven misguided masses of Chinese to the commission of crimes against the outposts of Western civilization and Christian worship dwelling peacefully in their midst."

"My minister died at the hand of an assassin, in a outrageous attempt to overcome the rising peril. The foreigners at the capital saw their lives threatened, life and limb. These things of horror united the civilized community, where otherwise there was a divergence. All nations against which the unparalleled onslaught was directed drew closer. Their sons fought in the ranks of the world to shoulder, even as round standards, side by side. So the governments show themselves in council, united with the sole wish to restore an orderly state of things as speedily as possible and, after the punishment of the chief culprits, avert a recurrence of the world-wide disturbance of the peace of the world."

In announcing that the relations of Germany with all the powers are good, the speech recalls his majesty's sorrow at the assassination of King Humbert of Italy, saying: "I was your ally and dear friend, who fell a victim to a damnable outrage."

"I would sooner have consulted the Reichstag on the measures in China but for the necessity for prompt action and the difficulty of furnishing reliable information. Whenever the Reichstag could form decisions or estimate the expenditure required the government felt confident that the representatives would not refuse their subsequent sanction to the necessary expenditure."

Turning to domestic matters, his majesty said that in consequence of the natural growth of the revenue and the increased taxation voted last session more abundant funds were available in almost every branch of life in the empire, especially for measures for the benefit of workers and for the defense of the country. A customs tariff, he added, would probably be laid before the bundestag during the present session.

The speech concluded by announcing various bills which would be introduced. The parent bill of repealing the Reichstag occurred at noon in the Kaiser's hall of the Schloss, in the presence of the Emperor.

At the conclusion of the speech from the throne Emperor William was warmly cheered and Count von Buelow, the imperial chancellor, formally declared the session opened.

Several of the evening papers announced that the German financial bill submitted to the federal council shows that to balance it the sum of $240,947,301 marks will be required. The bill empowers the imperial chancellor to raise a loan of 97,286,354 marks and to issue treasury bills to the amount of 175,000,000 marks to strengthen the ordinary working capital of the imperial treasury.

A bill providing for a third monetary credit on account of the Chinese expedition will be submitted to the Reichstag.

Washington Letter.

Democratic senators and representatives, who have been in Washington since the election, have not been disposed to talk for publication on the result, not because they are discouraged or that they consider the future of the democratic party in either doubt or danger, but on the general principle that it is always good policy for the defeated party to let the other fellows do the talking for awhile, just as they will have to do the legislating and administering of the country for awhile. For the same reason they think the talk about re-organizing the democratic party, which has been indulged in to a limited extent since the election premature at this time. The best policy for the democrats to adopt for a while is to keep a careful watch on the republicans, show up every blunder they make, and do a whole lot of thinking. It will be two years before there is another congressional election, and until then, the democrats will have no opportunity to get control of any branch of the national government. The gentlemen who are talking about holding conventions, etc., for a re-organization of the party at this time, are doubtless perfectly honest and wholly unselfish in their wishes for the future welfare of the party, but if they persist they will surely be suspected by many of being more anxious to get the party reins in their hands than of really helping the party. Party re-organizations, so far as leaders and principles are concerned are things which generally take care of themselves, as has been demonstrated more than once in the history of the democratic party, and doubtless will be again. Party upheavals which are genuine, usually start from the bottom, the rank and file of any party know how to change leaders when they consider it desirable or necessary to do so.

Secretary Root has gone to Cuba and for two reasons his going has caused much gossip in Washington, where it is believed to be connected with matters of importance relating to the future of Cuba. The first of these reasons is that the Cuban Constitutional convention is now in session in Havana, and the second is that this is considered the unhealthy season in Cuba. Mr. Root's health has not been robust since he had that operation performed on him a month or two ago, and he would hardly have chosen this season for his visit to Cuba, unless his going was important.

Just $100,000 more of good American money will be invested in the Philippines if the senate ratifies the treaty signed by Secretary Hay and the Spanish minister, which binds this country to pay Spain that amount for three small islands located just outside of the boundaries set by the treaty which ceded the Philippine islands to the U. S.

The orders sent to Gen. MacArthur, from Washington, to take the field in person in the new campaign that is to be waged against the Philippine insurgents as soon as the rainy season ends over there, show that the administration takes no serious stock in the campaign that is being made during the campaign that the re-election of Mr. McKinley would be followed by the collapse of the revolution. That was good enough talk for campaign purposes, but now the orders are to fight it to a finish. In ordering General MacArthur to take the field in person, Gen. Otis, who was so generally criticized for not doing so, is indirectly given a side swipe.

Gossip has mortgaged several cabinet portfolios in the second McKinley administration. As told in Washington, these stories make Mr. W. W. Gibbs, of Philadelphia, who helped Hanna squeeze the rich men and corporations of that town, just as St. John Wauzama did previous to his entrance of the Harrison Cabinet, the holder of one of these mortgages, and some go so far as to say that Mr. Gibbs is to become secretary of the treasury. If he does, it will be an awful throw down for Secretary Gage, who had understood that he was to remain at the head of the treasury, or he would not have fathered those freak interviews given out during the campaign to alarm the business interests of the country.

It is now practically admitted by republicans that the talk previous to election of a repeal of the war taxes was nothing more than a campaign bluff. A call for the ways and means committee of the house to meet on the 20th inst. has been issued. The bill the committee will prepare will merely revise the war taxes, some campaign obligations are to be paid that way, and will not repeal all of them. The republicans know very well that with the total appropriation by the last session of congress of $674,000,000 and the probability that a larger sum will be appropriated by the coming session all or nearly all of the money produced by the war taxes will be needed. The bill prepared by the committee will probably reduce the war taxes in the interests of favored classes, some like $15,000,000 or $20,000,000 a year, but the bulk of those taxes will have to be paid by the people for an indefinite period.

The royalist republicans, if such a term be allowable, are already talking about making Mr. McKinley's second inauguration an event of regal splendor and magnificence. Mr. L. P. Michener, of Indiana, who practices law in Washington in partnership with Gen. W. W. Dudley, is franker than many of them. He said in a public interview about the inauguration: "We should strive to excel in the glory of that day, the splendor of the jubilee of England's Queen."

Thanksgiving Day Proclamation.

A year of unequalled prosperity in all branches of industry, without disaster in any form, gives reason for a feeling of gratitude on the part of the people.

To give opportunity for a public expression of this feeling, and in conformity with the law of the state and a proclamation by the president of the United States, I, Edward Scofield, governor of the state of Wisconsin, do hereby designate and set apart Thursday, November 29, 1900, to be a day of public thanksgiving.

I recommend that upon that day the people of the state, laying aside their usual occupations and industries, and assembling in their places of worship and around the family board, do express in a fitting manner their gratitude to Almighty God for the blessing which have fallen upon our state and nation, and it should inspire in us a feeling of thankfulness that we are possessed of the moral and material resources necessary to meet them. A people without gratitude are unworthy of prosperity, while they who cultivate a spirit of gratitude are fitted thereby to more wisely meet responsibilities and use the blessings which come to them.

In testimony whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Great Seal of the state of Wisconsin to be affixed.

Done at the capitol, in the city of Madison, this 9th day of November, A. D. 1900. EDWARD SCOFIELD.

[SEAL] By the Governor: WILLIAM H. FROELICH, secretary of state.

Change of Day.

Hereafter the Tribune will be issued on Friday instead of Saturday as heretofore. This change was found to be necessary for several reasons, the chief among which was the fact that out of town people, who get their mail at either one of the local postoffices seldom received their paper until several days after it was published, and in the case of farmers who come to town only once a week their paper often lay in the office a week before they received it.

In view of this change it would be well for correspondents and others who have anything to be published to get their copy into the office on Thursday whenever possible, so that there will be plenty of time to handle it properly.

High School Notes.

Beginning with next Wednesday noon the second semi-term examinations will be given out. All classes so far are during excellent work as a whole, and the instructors feel confident that there will be few failures.

|             |    |                        |    |
|-------------|----|------------------------|----|
| 1st Wausau  | 0  | Grand Rapids           | 0  |
| 2nd         | 6  |                        | 0  |
| 3rd Merrill | 5  |                        | 0  |
| 4th Normal  | 5  |                        | 11 |
| 5th Merrill | 6  |                        | 10 |
| 6th Wausau  | 34 |                        | 0  |
| Total       | 6  | Won 2. Lost 3. Tied 1. |    |

There has been a great improvement in the daily musical instruction under Mr. Fuller. He feels greatly encouraged with the work done this semi-term.

Miss Fuller is visiting her brother, Wm. Fuller, teacher in the High school.

Joe Christman '04, has been detained from school during the past two weeks on account of sickness. Cleve Akey '01 is also on the sick list.

Parliamentary work has begun under Supt. Hambrecht. A meeting was held last Friday evening at the High school for the purpose of giving instruction in Parliamentary rules. In a short time the Forum will be holding weekly meetings as usual.

Work in the Physics class is necessarily advancing slowly, yet Mr. Hambrecht feels that the class is doing thorough work. The class is working under the subject of Energy.

Paid his Bet.

Louis Fourrier, in company with several more of us, thought William Jennings Bryan would be our next president, while Ludwig Gross had picked the winner in the person of William McKinley. A wager was made on the matter before election and Mr. Fournier agreed to furnish Mr. Gross and Mr. and Mrs. Geo. W. Davis with a turkey dinner provided his man lost the race. Mr. Ludwig to have pinned to his back a large lithograph of McKinley and Roosevelt and carry a large American flag in his hand.

The bet was paid on Sunday last and the procession appeared with Mr. Gross at the head togged out as per agreement. Mr. Fournier said afterward that he was on the lookout for them and had they not carried out their part of the agreement they would have got no dinner at his house.

Literary Notes.

The November number of The Household is exceptionally noteworthy. The cover, drawn especially for The Household, is executed in two colors, and tells a pleasing story of Colonial days and ways and is in itself a work of art. The stories are from such well-known writers as Sophie Swett, Will Allan Drouge, and J. L. Harbour. There are illustrated articles by Col. T. W. Higginson, Kate Sanborn, and Fannie Bullock Workman—the only woman who has climbed the Himalayas. The illustrators for the month are Chase Emerson, H. W. Colby, Louis Meynell, and E. Jepson.

Under the new management, The Household of Boston, Mass., promises to become one of the first in the field of magazines devoted to home interests.

A glance at the prospectus for the coming year indicates that Household readers will be well supplied with choice selections. Some of the best known and popular authors of the day will contribute to its pages, and the art work and the illustrations will surpass anything heretofore published.

Thomas Wentworth Higginson contributes an article entitled "The Mould of Fortune," in the November Household.

LANDLORD RUNS AWAY.

Hotel Rosebud Proprietor at Junction City Leaves Town.

Junction City was treated to a small sensation last Friday morning when it was learned that F. W. Little, who for some few months has been doing the honors as landlord of Hotel Rosebud, had departed from the village with his belongings during the night previous. Mr. Foubare expected to take charge of the house on the 16th inst., and consequently was put to some inconvenience to keep the house open. Mrs. Foubare, who was visiting at Evanston, Ill., was summoned by telegraph, however, and the house was not closed up.

Mr. Foubare will now have personal charge of the hotel and will devote his energies to placing the house higher in the esteem of the traveling public, if possible, than during his previous career as landlord. The change is in reality a desirable one for the proprietor, as the former table excellence, it was claimed by travelers, has not been preserved during Mr. Little's regime.

That Mr. Foubare is a genial, enterprising and accommodating host is evidenced by the popularity and esteem which he has won for the house during his four years' proprietorship.

Teachers' Meetings.

Supt. Leu has issued the schedule and program for teachers' meetings during the ensuing winter, as follows: Marshfield, December 1, 1900, and January 19, 1901.

Pittsville, December 8, 1900, and February 2, 1901.

Grand Rapids, west side, December 15, 1900, and January 26, 1901.

The following general information follows the program proper.

At the first meeting at Grand Rapids the question of forming a county association will be discussed and voted upon. As many teachers, as possible, from all over the county, should make arrangements to come to this meeting.

Those whose names are on the program, who find it impossible to attend will please provide a substitute and notify the county superintendent of same, giving reasons for non-attendance.

Wherever possible, a class exercise should be given by the one whose name appears first.

There will be a general discussion of about twenty minutes on each topic.

I wish that the schools where these meetings are held would provide the music.

Teachers are requested to bring work done by pupils, which will be exhibited at the meetings.

State Superintendent L. D. Harvey requests that teachers make a list of the library books, classifying them as follows: 1. Those especially valuable in school work; 2. Those most read and most enjoyed by the pupils; 3. Those neither valuable nor interesting. Bring these lists to the first series of meetings.

The State Teachers' Association will meet at Milwaukee, Dec. 26-29.

A cordial invitation is extended to all friends of education. School boards see that your teachers attend.

Excursion Rates.

The C. M. & St. Paul railroad will sell excursion tickets on Nov. 30 and Dec. 1st to Chicago and return at a fare and one third for round trip. Return limit Dec. 10th, account International Line Stock exposition.

On Oct. 23 and 30, Nov. 6, 13, 20 and 27, 1900 the C. M. & St. P. R. Co., will sell tickets both one way and round trip to points on Northern Pacific, Great Northern and Soo Line railways and their connections in the west at reduced rates. For further particulars inquire of local agent, L. M. SCHLATTERER, Agent.

Pluralities in Wood County.

According to the best returns obtainable the pluralities in Wood county are about as follows: McKinley over Bryan 1257. LaFollette over Bohmrich 1234. Minor over Morgan 1060. Cady over Germer 951. Renne over Reeves 528. Searls over Fleckenstein 694. McLaughlin over Ward 720. Lask over Getts 869. Podawiltz over White 425. Wiperman over Conway 636. Upham over Vaughn 680. Pitts over McKecher 650.

The democratic candidates for county officers made a remarkable run, and it is safe to say that if this had not been a presidential campaign every one of them would have been elected. Although defeated the democratic candidates may feel proud of their vote.

RADIANT HOME

BASE BURNER.

We never had a coal stove around the house until last Saturday. Have always used pine slabs and pieces of our neighbor's fence. They burn well, too, but the fence got all burned up, and the neighbor said he wouldn't build a new one, so we went down to Johnson & Hill Co.'s and got a coal stove. It is called the "Radiant Home," is manufactured by BLACK & GERMER of Erie, Pa., and any man that says we didn't have a radiant home at our house for about four hours last Saturday night is a Republican and a villain. You see we didn't know anything about coal stoves. We filled the Radiant Home about half full of pine fence, and, when the stuff got well to going, we filled the artesian well on top with coal. It simmered and spluttered about five or ten minutes, and all went out, and we put on an overcoat and a pair of buckskin mittens and "went out, too,"—to supper. We remarked in the course of the frugal meal that Johnson & Hill Co. were "froads" for recommending such a confounded refrigerator to a man to get warm by. After supper we took a piece of ice and rubbed our hands warm, and went in where that stove was, resolved to make her draw and burn if it took all the pine fence in the First ward. Our better half threw a quilt over her and shiveringly remarked that she never knew what real solid comfort was until she got a coal stove. Stung by the sarcasm in her remark, we turned every dingus on the stove that was movable or looked like it had anything to do with a draft, and pretty soon the Radiant Home began to heave up heat. It was not long before she stuttered like the new Silsby steamer. Talk about your heat! In ten minutes that room was as much worse than a Turkish bath as Hades is hotter than Ketchum's ice house. The perspiration fairly fried out of a tin water cooler in the next room. We opened the doors and snow began to melt as far up River street as the Green Bay & Western depot, and people all round the neighborhood put on linen clothes. And we couldn't stop the confounded thing. We forgot what McCamley told us about the dampers and she kept a biling. The only thing we could do was to go to bed and leave the thing to burn the house up if it wanted to. We stood off with a pole and turned the damper every way, and at every turn she just sent out heat enough to roast an ox. We went to bed supposing that the coal would eventually burn out, but about twelve o'clock the whole family had to get up and sit on the fence. Finally a man came along who had been brought up among coal stoves, and he put a wet blanket over him and crept up to the stove and turned the proper dingus and she cooled off, and since that time has been just as comfortable as possible. If you buy a coal stove you want to learn how to engineer it, or you may get roasted.

O beauty, what a powerful weapon thou art. The bravest men fall at thy feet. No wonder women take Rocky Mountain Tea to prolong that joyous spell. 35c at Johnson & Hill Co.

It is probable that the K. P. ball on Thanksgiving night will eclipse any thing of the kind that has been held
in this city for some time. The ladies
will serve supper and everything will
be done to make it an enjoyable affair.

Joseph L. Whitney, who has made
his home here for the past fifty years,
celebrated his 74th birthday on Wednesday last, and his daughter, Mrs.
Wm. Scott, gave a dinner in honor of the event. Mr. Whitney has seen
some wonderful changes in this part
of the country since he first began to
lumber in this section.

W. D. Connor of Marshfield was in the city yesterday.

Register of Deeds-elect E. A. Upham of Marshfield was in the city yesterday and made us a pleasant
call.

Dr. G. F. Witter returned from Marshfield on Wednesday, where he
had been visiting his daughter, Mrs.
W. D. Connor.

A real snowstorm occurred on Tuesday and it looked for a time as if it
had started in for a protracted siege
of winter weather. It turned out to be only the weekly anniversary of the snowstorm that occurred the previous
Tuesday, however.

Examine the line of Hawkes cut glass at Chapman's. It is the finest

A. W. Bryant came down from Marshfield on Monday having started out a gang of men at the north end at putting up poles, etc. The prospects
are that the new line will progress
rapidly should the weather be at all
favorable.

We pray thee, heed him not who asketh thee to take something, said to

Sold for 35 cents at Johnson & Hill Co.

F. H. Norton, the stove man is doing a rushing business these days repairing, cleaning and setting up
stoves. It pays to give a good price
and have your stoves fixed right.

Clark and Geo. Snyder brought in three as fine deer on Wednesday as ever seen in this section. The three were
bucks and weighed about 130 pounds
apiece and did not vary over two pounds in weight. They were purchased by Nic Reiland.

The condemnation proceedings that
were started against the land owned by the lumber firm of Gordon & Kruger by the Northwestern road have
been settled by the gentlemen giving
the road officials an option on the property at a satisfactory figure to them.

F. H. Norton has a first class man
and is able now to do all kinds of work. Pumps repaired, water pipes
fixed and all kinds of general work done besides. Stoves put in the best of order.

Next Saturday, Nov. 17, at 2 p. m.
the Ladies Aid Society of the Scandinavian Moravian church will give a supper in the G. A. R. Hall on the east side, price 25 cents. All are cordially invited. The young ladies club known as the Willing Heart society will hold
a bazaar at the same time and place
at which they will have for sale some
beautiful specimens of fancy work.

A number of the friends of Miss
Celia McCarthy got their heads together and tendered that young lady
a surprise party on Wednesday evening, the occasion being that young
lady's birthday. Among those present
were Misses Nora Slattery, Jessie
Stetser, Laura McCarthy, Kate Mc-
Carthy and Ida Allen; Dr. J. C. Con-
niff, Bert Bever, John Avery, Richard
Wiperman, Herman Wiperman, Ray
Love, C. V. Snyder and Dr. D. Waters.

Stevens Point Gazette: D. D. Con-
way, the present district attorney of Wood county, who was a candidate
for re-election, won the sobriquet of
the "Tall Sycamore" of the Wisconsin,
during the campaign. He, with the other candidates on the Democratic ticket, made a stirring campaign, but were defeated. Wood county gave McKinley a plurality of over 1,200 but
Conway was beaten by H. H. Wiperman
by only about 600.

A farmer's team made a wild dash
across the bridge on Thursday and
narrowly escaped striking the team
belonging to the Centralia Hardware
company, which was crossing in the opposite direction. Dan St. Amour,
who had charge of the hardware team,
managed to get his rig close enough
to the side so that everything escaped
without injury. The farm team kept
well in the middle of the road and
turned north and when last seen had
not suffered any damage.

If you are downhearted, deep in
business troubles, there is one prescription that is sure to benefit you.
The old maxim that "a hearty laugh
is the best of cures" contains more
truth than a great many people think,
and the physician who can give you
more laughs in a single evening than Barney Ferguson is yet to be born. A long, hearty laugh is a pleasant prescription to take, and you should join
the merry throng of patients at the Grand Opera house Monday, Nov. 19.

If your children are fretful,
peevish and cross, mother the same,
ditto the boss, it would seem proper to
give 'em all Rocky Mountain Tea.
35c at Johnson & Hill Co.

Roy Stringer had an exciting runaway on Tuesday. He had on a load
of household furniture and was passing down French street when some article fell from the wagon. Mr.
Stringer got down to replace it when
the team became frightened and started to run. Stringer got ahold of
the reins and in spite of the fact that
the team was making a good rate of
progress down the street managed to hang onto them. The furniture was spilled out and pretty well smashed up.

It will not be a surprise to any who
are at all familiar with the good qualities of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy,
to know that people everywhere take
pleasure in relating their experience
in the use of that splendid medicine
and in telling of the benefit they have received from it, of bad colds it has
cured, of threatened attacks of pneumonia it has averted and of the children it has saved from attacks of croup and whooping cough. It is a grand, good medicine. For sale by Johnson & Hill Co. druggists.

Last week J. D. Witter shipped to
the Rev. G. M. Cottrell, of Hammond, Louisiana, a library of books containing 67 volumes. The books were a
present to the reverend gentleman and
were selected with great care by the librarians in this city and were all gems in their way. There were also cards and instructions so that the
books could be loaned out if desirable.
These books, if taken care of and added
to in only a moderate way, will serve
as the starter for a fine library.

ROBBED OF A FORTUNE.

Highwayman Holds Up a Stevens Point Man.

VICTIM BADLY BEATEN.

Bartholomew Poplinski is Assaulted and Robbed on the Streets of the City—Have a Clue.

Stevens Point, Wis., Nov. 14.—[Special.]—Bartholomew Poplinski, a resident of the north side, in this city, was knocked down, while on his way home last night, by a lone highwayman and robbed of a pocketbook containing about $2100 in bills and notes.

The fellow struck Poplinski three times on the head with a club about three feet long, and after knocking him down tore his coat and escaped with the wealth.

Besides losing his fortune, Poplinski, who is about 35 years of age, has three severe cuts on the head.

A certain party is under suspicion and an arrest may follow.

KENOSHA MAN CUTS DOWN PHONE POLE.

Fight Between People and Company—Both Sides Will Apply to the Courts.

Kenosha, Wis., Nov. 14.—[Special.]—The people of Kenosha are starting into a long fight with the Wisconsin Telephone company. A short time ago the telephone company began to rewire their lines in all parts of the city. When the company put great poles on the business streets of the city, a big kick was taken. The first outbreak between the people and the workmen came yesterday afternoon. The company placed a large pole directly in front of the residence of Charles H. Gonnemann, formerly attorney at law. Mr. Gonnemann, who is a well-known man, protested, but to no purpose, and the work continued. Stung to desperation, Gonnemann appeared on the street with an axe and cut the pole down and now threatens suit if the company makes any effort to erect the pole in front of his house. On the other hand the superintendent has stated that Gonnemann will be arrested on a charge of malicious mischief.

RICE IS INSPECTING RAILWAYS IN STATE.

Railroad Commissioner Takes an Expert with Him—Will Travel Over Entire Systems.

Madison, Wis., Nov. 14.—[Special.]—Railroad Commissioner Graham Rice has started on the biennial inspection of the railroads in the state. He took with him R. R. Henney from the engineering department of the university, who is an expert on bridges and railroad construction. Mr. Rice has a special train consisting of a car and engine in which he will travel over the entire state. The first inspection made by a commissioner in company with an expert.

This week Mr. Rice is on the Northern and Omaha systems, which will include taking the measurements of 745 bridges and four tunnels on the two systems. It is expected that the trip will take about twenty-six days, covering 150 miles a day. Besides inspecting the bridges and roadbed, the commissioner will examine the condition of the depots and everything in short which has to do with the public safety and convenience.

INDIANS ARRESTED FOR KILLING DEER.

They Were Slaughtering the Animals and Fighting Hunters—Now in Jail at Glen Flora.

Glen Flora, Wis., Nov. 14.—[Special.]—The game wardens made a wholesale arrest of Indians from the Lac Flambeau reservation for violation of the game laws. The reds have been camped in the woods near here and have been slaughtering the deer. Game wardens Stone and Johnson went to the Indians' camp and arrested ten of the braves, who were brought to this city and lodged in jail, charged with killing more than their allotted number.

TO IMPROVE HARBORS.

Congressman Davidson Says About $50,000 Will be Expended in Fox River Valley.

Oshkosh, Wis., Nov. 14.—[Special.]—Congressman J. H. Davidson of this city, who is a member of the committee on rivers and harbors, and who made a tour of inspection in this vicinity recently, says that the committee will ask for $70,000,000 from the next Congress, and that the Fox River valley will receive about $50,000 of this amount.

BARABOO STOCK BUYER IS MISSING.

Friends of Daniel Holcomb Fear He Has Met with Foul Play.

Baraboo, Wis., Nov. 14.—Daniel Holcomb, a well-known stock dealer of this place, is missing. Monday he drove to Newport, ten miles north of here, to meet a man of whom he had bought some cattle. He put up at the summer home of Mr. Kerfoot, and as his man had not arrived he borrowed a fishing rod and went to the Wisconsin river. As he did not return home his brother-in-law, Fred Crouch, drove to Newport, where he found the team still in Kerfoot's barn, but no trace of Holcomb could be found. His footprints were followed to the river and the place was found where he had fished. The river is very high and the current swift, and it is supposed Holcomb fell in and drowned. Others, however, believe there was foul play, as he carried considerable money with him.

AMATEURS NOT ALLOWED TO ACT.

Village Board of Pardeeville Thought Portage People Would Bring Diphtheria with Them.

Portage, Wis., Nov. 14.—[Special.]—M. G. Dillenback, who travels through the state arranging home-talent plays under the auspices of home benevolent or religious societies, with casts composed of home talent, has retained counsel and will bring suit against the village board of Pardeeville for its refusal to permit him to give in the hall at that place with a cast composed of Portage talent. The Pardeeville board claimed to have understood that there were more than fifty cases of diphtheria in Portage, and that account refused to allow the people from Portage to appear in the village. Manager Dillenback claims that there was no truth in the report, but they could not be prevailed upon to allow the company to appear. The action will be brought for reimbursement of expenses incurred.

BIG ATTENDANCE AT DAIRY SCHOOL.

Many New Students in Agricultural College at the University of Wisconsin.

Madison, Wis., Nov. 14.—[Special.]—The registration of students for the dairy school yesterday was very large and indications point to a larger attendance this year than ever before, as the number will in all probability exceed 120. A new feature of the work this year is a department of farm machinery, which includes practical work in farm machinery, plumbing and other mechanical matters. The students will get down to work tomorrow, the classes meeting today for the first time. The men come from all over the state, as far west as California and from Ohio, Indiana and Canada.

TO DRAIN THE LAKE.

William Nickels of Amboy, Ill., is Buying All Land About Beaver Dam Lake.

Beaver Dam, Wis., Nov. 14.—[Special.]—Shall Beaver Dam lake be drained? The citizens of Beaver Dam and vicinity have become more and more aroused since the question of draining Beaver Dam lake was simply suggested, a plan which never before has been thought of, much less attempted.

William Nickels of Amboy, Ill., has been in Beaver Dam for several weeks, but not until within the last few days have his intentions become known. Rather secretly Mr. Nickels has purchased in every possible way, both from government or state and private owners, as much land, which borders on Beaver Dam lake, as he was able. There are about 12,000 acres of land around the lake which is either marshy or almost useless because of the lake. Of this land Mr. Nickels has purchased $440 acres near Beaver Dam and extending west to Lost Lake.

When Mr. Nickels first came to Beaver Dam about a year ago, he represented himself as a trapper, then said he was going to buy the lake and drain it, and get the water to high-water mark and raise cattails, largely his plans became more definitely known, when he was obliged to see the directors of the lake in regard to purchasing their water rights. Mr. Nickels intends to buy all the land around the lake, and in order to have more to drain down the dam and dredge seven or eight feet deep up the center of the lake. The directors of the lake have all been visited, and where Mr. Nickels returns, if they are not willing to come to friendly terms, he will take the case into court.

Beaver Dam lake varies in width from one-half mile to about 2 1/2 miles and is four miles long. It is the only reservoir of the state and its water powers between here and Janesville, and its draining the lake and the water to high-water mark, and Mr. Nickels expects to assess himself and pay damages. He even suggested to some that perhaps the city of Beaver Dam would be willing to bear part of the cost of the lake, but he believes it would be a benefit to the city to have the lake converted into farmland.

"In case he should make such a request to our city," said a citizen of Beaver Dam, "he will find he will not get a kind word from us. We will not let him come on the contrary, should he attempt to do so, we will drain the lake, and he will become noted for his fish as well as for his power. Mr. Nickels will find himself at war with every citizen of Beaver Dam and all people in the vicinity."

A DARING HOLDUP.

La Crosse Store is Robbed in Broad Daylight—Suspect is Arrested.

La Crosse, Wis., Nov. 14.—[Special.]—A daring robbery took place on the north side in broad daylight here yesterday. A stranger entered the Swenson hardware store and while Mr. Swenson stepped back in the store he engaged Mrs. Swenson in conversation and suddenly commanding her to keep still pulled the showcases and found a large sum of money and will be examined later.

DEATH OF A PROFESSOR.

William R. Rosenstengel of the State University.

DUE TO HEART FAILURE.

A Well-Known Instructor in German and a Prominent Writer and Editor.

Madison, Wis., Nov. 13.—[Special.]—Prof. William R. Rosenstengel of the faculty of the University of Wisconsin suddenly expired in a faculty meeting yesterday afternoon, the result of heart failure. Dean Johnson of the school of engineering has just spoken on the new engineering building which Prof. Rosenstengel's head fell back. Only a moment before one of the professors had turned back to talk with Prof. Rosenstengel and he seemed in good humor and talked cheerfully. He had for some time been suffering from Bright's disease.

Prof. Rosenstengel was one of the veteran professors of the university and a favorite among his associates and students, especially the large number of admirers which he always had among the Germans. His death will be mourned not only by a large number of students, but also in local circles.

Prof. Rosenstengel was born in Germany September 10, 1842. While still a youth he came to America. His first experience in teaching was in the Central high school for twelve years. In 1879 he was added to the faculty of the university of Wisconsin as a teacher in German. He has since become widely known as a lecturer and writer on German subjects. In his lectures he has spoken in many cities in Wisconsin, Illinois and Indiana and in Chicago and Louisville.

At one time Prof. Rosenstengel was assistant editor of the Amerikanische Schulzeitung und Lehrpost. He has written a number of German textbooks and has been a member of the board of education, secretary and president of the National German Teachers' association and for eleven years he has been president of the National German-American Teachers' association. He was married to Lina Wirth in 1882. During his illness the funeral of Prof. Rosenstengel will be held Thursday afternoon from his home.

SHOT GOES THROUGH DEER, WOUNDING MAN.

Fyde Shaddock of Iron Mountain, Mich., is Mortally Wounded by a Friend.

Marquette, Wis., Nov. 13.—[Special.]—An accident of a peculiarly distressing nature happened near Iron Mountain, Mich., yesterday. Fyde Shaddock, a well-known resident of that place, and Peter Weber went out to shoot deer. They traveled about eight miles, when Weber got a shot at a deer. The shot bullet passed through the animal and entered Shaddock's side, inflicting a wound from which he cannot recover.

WITNESS REMAINS OUT OF THE STATE.

Case Against Deputy Game Warden Frank Roberts is Dismissed at Madison.

Madison, Wis., Nov. 13.—[Special.]—The case of Deputy State Game Warden Frank Roberts, charged with shooting R. J. Roberts of Waukesha about three weeks ago in front of the Capital house, after an all-night session at cards, was dismissed in the municipal court today, owing to the absence of the man who was shot and the inability of the prosecution to secure his attendance, he being out of the state and beyond the reach of a subpoena. He evidently has no desire to prosecute.

A $100,000 MALT-HOUSE AT CHILTON.

Company Has Been Organized and the Large Plant will be Built in the Near Future.

DROWNED ON STREET.

Dennis Kinney of Marinette Falls Face Downward into a Little Pool of Water.

Marinette, Wis., Nov. 13.—[Special.]—Dennis Kinney, an old resident of Marinette, met death in a peculiar manner last night. He drowned on Elizabeth avenue, one of the streets of the city, in six inches of water.

He was going home at the time and slipped off a high walk and fell face downward into the water. The fall apparently stunned him and he was unable to extricate himself and was found this morning with his face frozen into the little pool into which he had fallen. He was 55 years old and came here from Fond du Lac.

RACINE COUNTY BOARD.

May Buy Property for Poor Farm—Transacts Important Business.

Racine, Wis., Nov. 13.—[Special.]—The board of supervisors met this morning and William Shenkerberg of Watervliet, who has been chairman of the finance committee for years, was elected to the Racine county board. There is business of great importance to be before the board. The question of purchasing 100 acres of land near the insane asylum, which will be used as a county poor farm, was discussed. The board will also endeavor to have William Baumann, the sheriff-elect, make a contract with the county to do the work the same as the contract of the present sheriff, which is $6000 a year.

WON'T CONTEST INDIAN VOTE.

It is Not Probable that Any Question will be Raised.

Green Bay, Wis., Nov. 13.—[Special.]—Henry Watermolen, the defeated Democratic candidate for clerk of the circuit court, has decided that he will not open a contest on account of the votes cast yesterday in the recent election. George Stenger, the defeated Democratic candidate for sheriff, stated today that he may conclude to make a contest.

MERCHANT ARRESTED.

Prominent Business Man of Medford Charged with Setting Fire to His Store.

Wausau, Wis., Nov. 13.—[Special.]—Ex-Attorney-tit, W. H. Mclen, returned home this afternoon from Medford, where he had been called to assist the district attorney of Taylor county in the prosecution of Mandel Marcus, one of the leading merchants of Medford, who is charged with incendiarism.

On the night of July 26, the large department store of Marcus was destroyed by fire, together with all the contents. Several adjoining stores were also destroyed. How the fire started was a mystery and although some were free to express opinions, the dozen insurance companies interested in the case, settled their claims and it was thought that the matter had been dropped.

The complaint in the present case was made by one of the merchants burned out at the time of the fire, and he charges Marcus with setting the fire. The preliminary examination has been adjourned until December 11.

BROWN COUNTY MUST IMPROVE ITS ASYLUM.

State Board of Control Threatens to Withdraw Patronage Unless Something is Done.

Green Bay, Wis., Nov. 13.—[Special.]—The matter of building an addition to the county insane asylum, at a cost of about $10,000, has been decided by the county board of supervisors this week. As the state board of control has threatened to withdraw state patronage from the asylum unless extensive improvements are made, the institution within a year it is almost certain that a building fund will be appropriated by the supervisors. The capacity of the present asylum is overtaxed by 125 inmates and the equipments are far from modern.

COUNTY BOARD HIT.

Tax Commission Overhauls the Apportionment Made by Onondaga County Supervisors.

Rhineland, Wis., Nov. 13.—[Special.]—The county board of Onondaga county convened in annual session here today. The most important matter to come before the board is the report of the tax commission appointed by Judge Silverthorn to consider the apportionment of county taxes. The commission was appointed upon application of residents of the towns of Woodboro and Hazelhurst, who were averse to the opinion of the majority of the board relative to the values of our county lands. At the annual meeting of the county board last year, the assessed valuation of the county was placed at $2,000,000. The different towns and city of Rhineland were apportioned according to the valuations fixed as follows: Hazelhurst, 28 per cent; Woodboro, 15 per cent; Pelican, 1 per cent; Newbold, 3 per cent; Sugar Camp, 6 per cent; Schopkne, 3 per cent; Green, 1 per cent; City of Rhineland, 28 per cent. Under the ruling of the tax commission there is a decided change in the condition of all the towns. The apportionment is as follows: Hazelhurst, 15.32 per cent; Woodboro, 12.35 per cent; Pelican, 9 per cent; Newbold, 4.66 per cent; Sugar Camp, 7.74 per cent; Schopkne, 5.11 per cent; Green, 7.91 per cent; City of Rhineland, 28 per cent. A comparison shows that nearly all towns, with exception of Hazelhurst and Woodboro, have been raised, while assessed valuation of city has been increased nearly 10 per cent. Decision of the commission is final and the county board must abide by the findings of the members.

CHARGED WITH CRIME.

Two Men Arrested in Milwaukee Charged with Robbing Fond du Lac Farmer.

Fond du Lac, Wis., Nov. 13.—[Special.]—Jesse Smith and Charles Custard, who were arrested in Milwaukee Sunday night, were brought to Fond du Lac yesterday and arraigned in Justice Watson's court on the charge of holding up John Hauptreich, a Taycheedah farmer, in this city the latter part of October and robbing him of $100 in cash and a number of papers, including a couple of notes and a certificate of deposit of $100. Their examination was adjourned to Saturday.

Marion Clark and C. L. Dowland are held on the same charge, having been arrested the day after the holding. Smith and Custard are positively identified by Hauptreich as being members of the party that robbed him. They were in the city the day of the robbery, but disappeared the next day. Descriptions of the men were sent to Fond du Lac and the state and Milwaukee officers rounded them up Sunday night.

DEATHS IN FOND DU LAC.

Mrs. H. M. Lewis, an Early Settler, Passes Away.

FIFTY ACRES OF TEA.

The Only Gardens in the United States.

The only tea gardens in the United States are at Pinchurst, S. C. These gardens are the property of Dr. Charles U. Shepard, who for the last ten years has been experimenting with tea culture on a scale and with a thoroughness never before attempted in this country. Tea culture has been undertaken in a small way in the South at various times during the last 100 years, the department of agriculture having frequently furnished seeds and plants for this purpose; but Dr. Shepard is the first person who can be said to have been successful in the business, and even he told me when I visited his place recently that although he had been in the work so long it was not until the crop of 1898 was being harvested that he felt justified in saying that he had been successful.

Dr. Shepard's estate comprises about 700 acres, of which between 50 and 100 acres are now planted to tea. This acreage is increased each year by the setting out of new gardens. It might be thought that so large an amount of land devoted to one crop would be spoken of as a tea farm or tea plantation, but I have the authority of the department of agriculture for saying that in all tea growing countries the plantations are called tea gardens. "Whether the area under cultivation is one acre or 1000 acres, it is recognized as a garden, and in the United States this appellation is universally employed."

Dr. Shepard has evolved a scheme which has worked excellently, and which has seemed to me to be in itself a worthy piece of philanthropy. He built a comfortable schoolhouse and equipped it with all the requisites for successful teaching. Then he hired a competent teacher and invited all the colored families to send their children to school free of charge. They would be taught all the branches usually taught in a primary school, and they would also be taught to pick tea and given an opportunity to earn money to help buy food and clothing. The offer was favorably received, and the school has a large number of scholars from whom such pickers are required are drawn. Many of the children when they first come to the school are too small to work, but they soon acquire the strength and skill necessary. At first the tea was picked very carefully, and while I was watching the children at the tea-house one boy turned in a basket in which there were so many coarse leaves that he was severely reprimanded by the doctor. The other children hung their heads, as if they were ashamed of him.

There is a large class of people who might profitably add the cultivation of tea to that of fruit, flowers and vegetables, filling out the corners of their gardens with tea bushes, or tea trees, or tea, or substituting useful as well as ornamental evergreen hedges of that plant for the present unsightly and costly and frequently unreliable fences. Cultivated in this way the outlay of time, labor and money would be but a small one, and one result the household would be able to supply its own tea, pure, strong and wholesome, instead of the wishy-washy stuff often far from cheap, generally sold throughout the country.

As these tea gardens are extended and multiply facilities will be established in each neighborhood for the large manufacture of commercial tea, while the products of the surrounding gardens can be brought and sold, precisely as counting factories and dairies consume surplus fruit and milk.—Boston Beacon.

BEST TYPE OF A NEW WOMAN.

Mrs. Palmer Continues at Paris the Work Begun at the World's Fair.

The year after the World's fair Mr. and Mrs. Porter Palmer made an extended tour in Europe and Egypt. She received a distinguished and universal welcome, equalling that accorded a half a century before to Queen Victoria, and later to Gen. Grant. In every country, at every court, Mrs. Palmer was entertained with special honors. Everywhere she gave the same impression of beauty and charm. The Queen of Belgium was particularly attracted by her representative of a young country and of Western civilization. Mr. and Mrs. Palmer visited the Queen at her famous chateau at Spa. Yet when Mrs. Palmer returned to her native land after these travels, she found her social life completely changed. She was no longer the one woman who had been so highly honored, but she was now a common woman.

Having accomplished her World's fair mission, Mrs. Palmer returned to private life, finally declining any further public honors such as our social institutions offer to women of her rank. She seemed to be content with the conventional position of a society leader, for which her nature and circumstances had well fitted her. Then arose the question of appointing a woman to the board of commissioners to represent this country at the Paris Exposition. Mrs. Palmer was pre-eminently the woman for the place. She knew this, and also she knew that she had more work to do to round off properly, that which she had so nobly begun in the Chicago Exposition. But there was an element at Washington that did not realize this. Opposition, instead of disheartening her, only strengthened her determination. Bringing all her ability and tact to bear, she again succeeded in achieving her aim. She was appointed as the one woman commissioner on the board. She is now acting in this capacity in Paris. Her special purpose there, and one which she has gained, was to have women included on the list of jurists of award.—Ainslee's Magazine.

GERMANY WANTS MORE TRADE.

Merchants and Manufacturers Make Every Effort to Get New Markets.

The ruling passion in Germany is competition. One cannot drive or dine with a German merchant or manufacturer in the course of holiday travel without learning the secret, says a correspondent in the New York Tribune, of the thing that he talks about is the triumph of German shipbuilders in taking away the transatlantic record from the British lines. "We did not think that it could be done for many decades," said a manufacturer from Cologne in the Enquirer. "For the shipbuilders of Belfast, the Clyde and the Tyne had held the supremacy so long. It has been done, and we are filled with pride and exultation. The triumph of the German shipbuilders over the British is a great commercial and political triumph, and it is a triumph that will be remembered for many years to come. The German shipbuilders are now in a position to compete with England in any modern industry and surpass her in trade. We are no longer afraid of British competition anywhere, for we can adopt new processes and keep up with it. The American have become our most formidable rivals. It is their sheer inventiveness that baffles us."

The manufacturer from Cologne went on with a fine glow of enthusiasm to describe the tremendous strides of German commerce in every quarter of the world and to laud the wisdom of the Emperor in strengthening the navy, promoting the interests of the commercial marine and opening new foreign markets. In the same spirit the German after dinner speaker discussed the coming industrial triumphs of the Fatherland, and anticipated the establishment of a world-wide commercial and colonial empire.

King's Bastion—British Landmark.

The history of England has at times crystallized round Portsmouth, a great naval and military center. For centuries this town was the very center of all military enterprise in England, and noteworthy events seem to have crowded themselves in this little spot, where the "King's Bastion" stands. For the military history of no place is so replete with clear and definite memories. The very names of the great men of action who have stood on this spot would fill the pages; the account of their efforts, their victories and their failures would fill a volume. It is therefore, no mere local interest which demands the reservation of these ancient works, but a national interest. A stroke of the pen may save them; a stroke of the pen may sweep them away.—London Mail.

An incident in real life as described by Chiefly About People in the Boston Herald is so strikingly true, that it is almost singular to relate, only a small part of the Navajo wool crop is worked up at home into the wonderful blankets that have made the tribal name famous. Only the coarser and cheaper blankets are now made of the native wool. The up-to-date Navajo weaver uses German yarn and Diamond Dyes.—Ainslee's Magazine.

GOWNS OF NEW YORK WOMEN.

Another of Mrs. Mackay's gowns is of pure black broadcloth with a glossy finish. It is made up in the most delightful fashion, having a smart high collar, a wide, deep, and long, and full, showing beneath it a fitted body of brilliant scarlet cloth braided in military fashion in gold. The sleeves are in the 1850 flowing style, and show beneath them full undersleeves of scarlet cloth, embroidered and braided in gold, and very close wristbands buttoned with tiny gold buttons. With this gown Mrs. Mackay wears a hat "panache" hat of scarlet cloth corded in circles with feathers and has a mass of scarlet cloth roses piled high on one side and held by a big buckle of tressed gold.

That glorious Southern beauty, Mrs. Norman Whitehouse, wears always such entrancing things that one always thinks that she has on the levelled yet. She revels in beautiful evening cloaks, and one that she has just had made is of gold colored lace, embroidered in fine gold thread. It is in the form of a loose cloak or mantle, and has wide flowing sleeves and a long, full skirt. The collar is of the lace down the front and around the bottom, and a huge collar stands up high about the throat, frilled with the lace resting high against the hair. The whole large, transparent garment is lined with rose silk.

Mrs. Oliver Harriman has one of those new velvet hats. Hers has the high, spread-top crown and full, folded brim. It is of deep mauve velvet and has very large cords of featherbone about the crown. Where the folds of the brim cross the front they pass through a very long buckle of fine cut steel and brilliant.

Mrs. Sturges Fish has long been famous for her unique and beautiful gowns. She invariably has something quite different from anyone else, and as she has the figure and the dash to carry off any sort of a gown with excellent grace, she is always a notable example of fine gowning.

One of the most fetching white cloth gowns of this season is in the wardrobe of Mrs. Hermann Oelrichs, who, like all California women, delights in fine dressing. The gown is of finest white with heavy white braid. There is no touch of color about it anywhere, and with it Mrs. Oelrichs is to wear a large crushed turban of intense peach velvet and a muff of prodigious size of black fox fur. The effect with her rich beauty can be easily imagined.—New York World.

CAVES INHABITED BY BATS.

Market for Guano-Like Substance Found in Them.

Certain portions of southern New Mexico are infested with bats, which until recent years have been considered an unmitigated evil, although it is well known that they destroy large numbers of insects. About two years ago, however, several caves, one of them some miles from the others, were accidentally discovered. Countless numbers of these bats used these caves and evidently had used them for years as a sort of roost during the day. And as a result of the discovery of these caves, a thick deposit of a sort of guano-like substance, which proved to be very valuable as a fertilizer.

The owner of the caves has already sold over 1700 tons of this material at $25 a ton, and the supply is not yet exhausted. A fact of considerable interest, as bearing on the probable continuance of the deposit, is that so far, as long as the small holes through which the bats gain entrance are not disturbed, the deposit continues to grow for roosting places, as of old.

HELPED THE CHIEF.

How a Loyal Engineer Did His Brother Great Service.

Meadville, Pa., Nov. 12, 1900.—(Special.)—The Loyalty of the Members of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers is proverbial. A circumstance occurred in this city some days ago, which emphasizes this feeling.

Frank J. Zeller is chief of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, No. 142. He is extremely popular among his fellow railway men, and one of the best known engineers running out of Meadville. When the announcement was made a short time ago that Frank was pretty sick, it caused a great deal of regret among the boys. Soon he was missed from his engine, having had to "lay off" on account of his back. A brother of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, who had been ill with similar symptoms some time before, and who had been pulled through, called to see Mr. Zeller, and in a brotherly way took with him a box of Dodd's Kidney Pills, the remedy which had cured him. He advised Mr. Zeller to try them, with the result that after seven boxes had been used, he was entirely well, and able to work.

In an interview Mr. Zeller states: "I had suffered for four years with this affliction, being often kept awake at night with pains, and at times unable to work. I tried several of the advertised remedies, and found that they did me no earthly good. Finally, a member of our order, who had been cured of kidney disease by Dodd's Kidney Pills, brought me a box, and asked me to try them. I had little faith in them, but as a drowning man grasps at a straw to help him, so I took the pills. I used seven boxes, and am today as well and strong a man as there is in Pennsylvania."

Naturally, Mr. Zeller feels very grateful, and his complete recovery has delighted his many friends, and none more than the good brother, who feels that he was instrumental in saving the life of the chief.

Dodd's Kidney Pills never fail to cure Kidney Trouble. Sold for 30 cents a box, all dealers.

Navajos Sell Wool and Buy Yarn.

The Navajo Indians of Arizona are a material factor in the wool market. The tribe is wealthy through its flocks. The tribesmen are believed to own little short of 1,000,000 head, the care of the flocks and the weaving of wool being almost the sole occupation of the Navajo Indians. The occupation is a small part of the Navajo wool crop is worked up at home into the wonderful blankets that have made the tribal name famous. Only the coarser and cheaper blankets are now made of the native wool. The up-to-date Navajo weaver uses German yarn and Diamond Dyes.—Ainslee's Magazine.

Deafness Cannot be Cured.

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure Deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a running sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness results. It is not until the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists, etc.

Cuban Progress Due to Yankees.

The men from the United States have done several great things in Cuba. They have organized the police admirably; they have administered the finances more ably than ever before in Cuba's history; they have taken a complete census; they have furnished the country with a small army, and they have improved the roads and the public service. Cuba has been changed as if by magic. So, taken all in all, the Cubans of today are in better condition and in a better position than it ever has been in the past.—Saturday Evening Post.

Chronic Nasal Catarrh poisons every breath we draw into the lungs. There is procurable from any druggist the remedy for its cure. A small quantity of Ely's Cream Balm placed into the nostrils spreads over an inflamed and angry surface, relieves immediately the painful inflammation, cleanses, heals and cures. Drying, itching, raw, smelly, and snuffy sniffs develop dry catarrh; they dry up the secretions which adhere to the membrane and decompose, causing a far more serious trouble than the ordinary form of catarrh. Avoid all drying inhalants, use Ely's Cream Balm. It is reliable and will cure catarrh, cold in the head and hay fever easily and pleasantly. All druggists sell it at 50 cents, or it will be mailed by Ely Brothers, 56 Warren St., N. Y.

ST. VITUS' DANCE

Three great and complete cures effected by Dr. Greene's Nervura Blood and Nerve Remedy.

Mrs. J. A. Ferre, who resides near 905 Main Street, Hartford, Conn., says:

"My daughter Lulu became very ill with St. Vitus' dance over a year ago. She became so bad that she lost the use of her right arm and side, and we thought at one time that she would lose her speech. Her tongue was almost paralyzed, she was so bad she could not feed herself, and at night she would get so nervous I had to sit and hold her. I tried several doctors, but they did not do her any good. I did not find anything that would help her until I used Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy. She is now, by the use of this medicine, entirely cured."

C. H. Bailey, Esq., of Waterbury, Vt., writes:

"I am more than glad to write about my little daughter. Until a short time ago she had always been a very delicate child and subject to sick spells lasting weeks at a time. She was very nervous, and our family doctor said we would never raise her. She was so delicate and feeble. We tried many remedies without the least good. We felt much anxiety about her, especially as she was so young. She had great fear for her future. Learning of the wonders being done by Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, I determined to give it to her. She soon commenced to improve under its use, and rapidly gained in every respect. She eats and sleeps well, and her nerves are strong. The medicine has done wonders for her and it is the best we ever knew. I recommend Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy to everybody."

Mrs. J. Learmonth, of 776 Broadway, South Boston, Mass., says:

"At ten years of age my daughter became affected with a nervous condition which soon developed into St. Vitus' dance. It was pronounced by the attending physician to be a very severe attack. The month would be drawn spasmodically from one side, the hands and arms were restless and constantly twitching. Her limbs also were weak; her ankles bent under her so that it was almost impossible to walk. She was so nervous that she would scream almost like a maniac and then have fits of crying. After two months' treatment without a cure, I concluded to try Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy. Three bottles entirely cured her. She is now thirteen years old, and has been well ever since, and to-day is a picture of health."
